

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

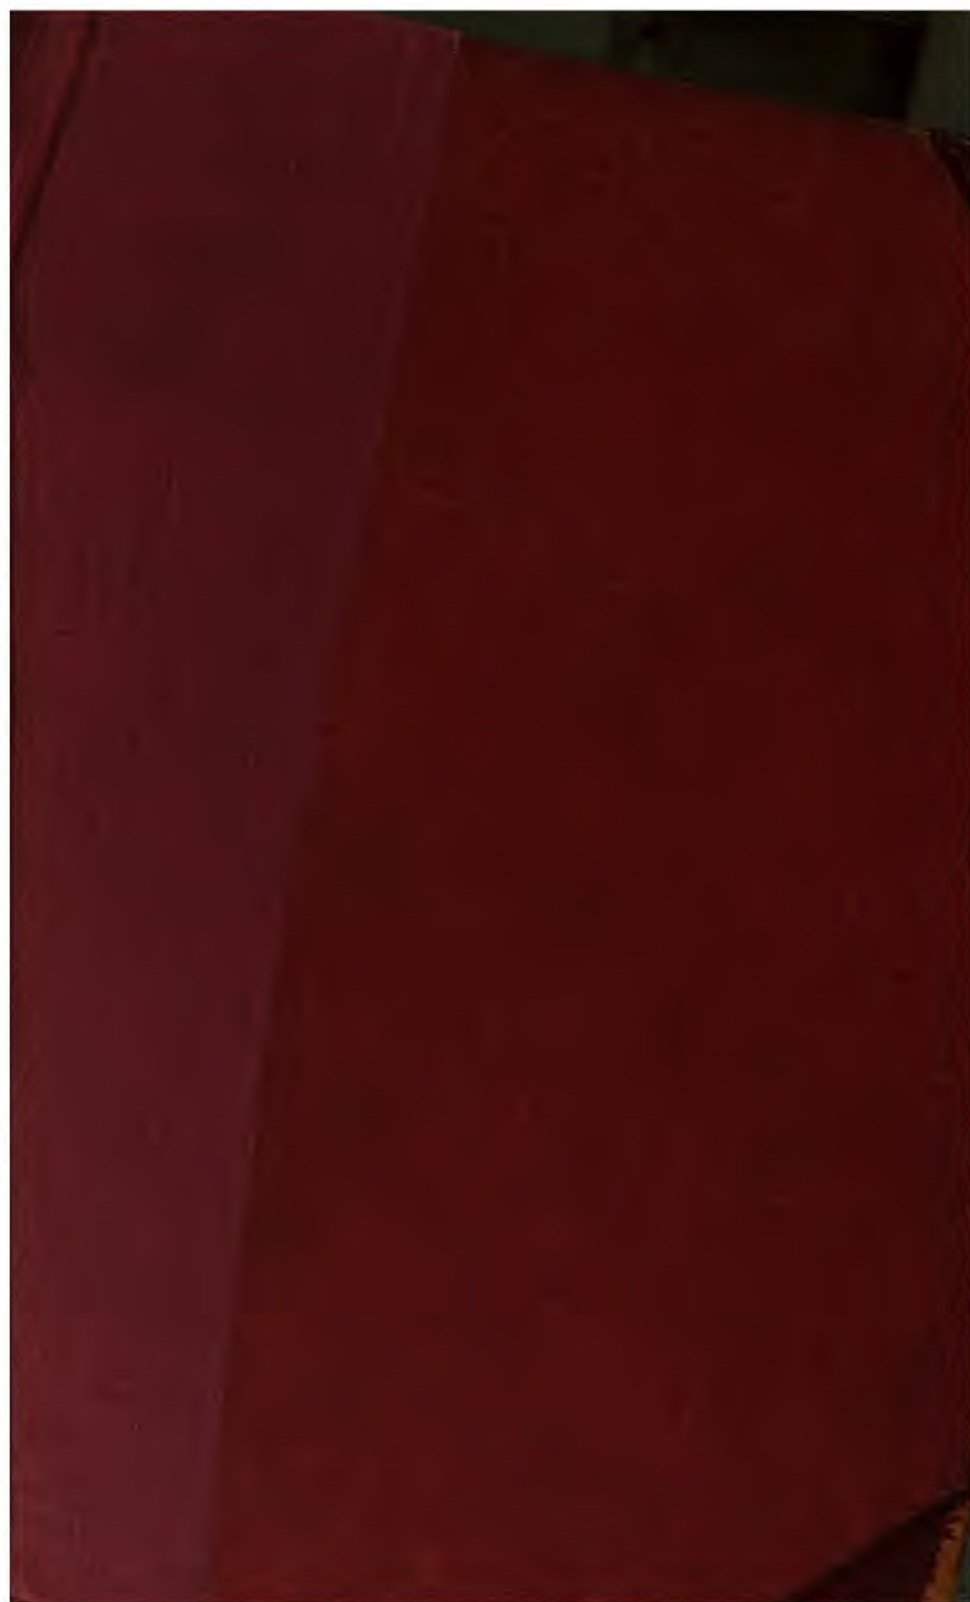

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

PREFACE.

IN placing this GENERAL CATALOGUE of my stock of Books before the public, I beg to state that these Books have been brought together by me on account either of their intrinsic value or their fine condition. The Libraries of many eminent Collectors and distinguished Savants are here united in one focus, and thus collected and arranged, form a picture of the whole range of Literature, displaying the marvellous literary activity of the Human Mind at all periods in the existence of civilized nations.

Seldom before has such an extensive Catalogue of the chief or STANDARD WORKS of the Literature of all Countries been issued: they are here represented,—occasionally by an early Manuscript, often by the Editio Princeps, usually by the best edition, and sometimes by the cheapest modern reprint.

Especial pains have been taken to gather an almost complete Series of the TRANSACTIONS of the Learned Societies of Europe, America and Asia. Of MANUSCRIPTS, which are somewhat scattered throughout the Catalogue, the number is about a thousand, including early Biblical and Classical Codices from the Xth Century downwards, Illuminated Missals, Chronicles, and an extensive collection of Oriental works.

When the great difficulty is considered, which now exists, to obtain valuable books at MODERATE PRICES, the collection here offered for sale, will, I trust, be thought deserving attention. I have bestowed many years of the most energetic part of my life in getting these books together, and they are now offered at their fair market value, many of them even below it. I quote on this subject an extract from a letter in the "Times" of Feb. 29, 1868:

"A delusion which it may be well to dispel, is that large establishments must necessarily entail higher charges. The contrary is really nearer the truth, for the larger the trade the more advantageously it can be conducted in point of cost of goods and average of expenses."

The CLASSIFICATION of the Books is generally such as to facilitate reference; but is, in some cases, rather arbitrary, this arising chiefly from the fact that many books were obtained when some advance had been made in the printing of the Catalogue, and the new purchases were necessarily inserted in not always the most appropriate places.

The ALPHABETICAL INDEX has been made with care, and has been a most tedious labour. I trust, however, that it will be the means of securing for my Catalogue an honorable place on the bibliographical shelf of Public Libraries, Book Collectors and Savants.

NEW PURCHASES are added to my stock every day;—they are advertised gradually in my Monthly Catalogues, which are sent post-free for three shillings per annum. To eager collectors, I recommend a weekly call at my Establishment to secure an early sight of these New Purchases.

To Gentlemen forming a Library, I beg to offer my services in supplying all the best STANDARD BOOKS of English Literature, with an admixture of such foreign works as are indispensable in a good ENGLISH LIBRARY.

To Collectors of RARE BOOKS, I offer my assistance in procuring their Desiderata; as my extensive connections with Book-sellers and Book-collectors throughout Europe, give me a fair hope of success.

NEW ENGLISH and FOREIGN BOOKS I supply at the usual rate.

Gentlemen residing abroad can have ALL their London COMMISSIONS carefully attended to.

Finally, I beg that this Catalogue may not be judged severely; being a Bookseller's Catalogue, it has only one object, and that is: to attain the sale of the Books advertised. Every Book has however been honestly described, and Gentlemen who favour me with their orders can rely upon receiving good copies in good condition.

BERNARD QUARITCH.

GENERAL

CATALOGUE OF BOOKS.

EUROPEAN MANUSCRIPTS.

Early Codices of the BIBLE and of CLASSICS on Vellum; Important HISTORICAL Documents; Inedited Works; ILLUMINATED MISSALS; Original DRAWINGS.

1 EVANGELIA QUATUOR, GRÆCE, quibus præpositi sunt CANONES EUSEBII, 410 leaves, in 2 vols. sm. 4to. including 10 blank ones, fine Byzantine Manuscript on VELLUM, written in the latter half of the Ninth Century, with 4 large PAINTINGS of the EVANGELISTS, the capitals and headings in gold, beautifully bound in brown morocco extra, blind tooling, enclosed in a red velvet case, with compartments and spring, £250. circa A.D. 860

Artistic Illustrations:—

St. MATTHEW, seated before a lectern and a desk on which are placed writing materials; the head surrounded by a nimbus, and looking to the right, three quarters of the face shewn; hair and beard grey. St. MARK, a book in his hand, a nimbus round his head, seated before a desk; looking to the right, with brown hair and beard. St. LUKE, also sitting in a similar position, with brown hair, and small beard. St. JOHN, round-headed, with grey hair and beard, looking to the left, also seated before a lectern, and more Asiatic in appearance than the other three.

This precious Manuscript is of extreme importance for its text, which possesses a highly critical value, and has never been collated by any editor of the New Testament. It is written in plain upright cursive characters, with uncial headings and initials, the accents and breathings in most instances correctly noted. It has been the fashion of some scholars to depreciate MSS. in the cursive character, and to attribute an undue superiority to the older-looking Codices entirely written in capitals. This erroneous tendency is ably combated by Mr. Davison in the introduction to his edition of the Codex Augiensis (royal 8vo. 1859), and Dr. Davidson is quoted as saying that "good readings make good Manuscripts." Besides, Dom Vaisset, in the Dictionnaire de Diplomatique (Vol. I. pp. 12 and 14), shows that the cursive character was in use before the Sixth Century, although not universally adopted till the Ninth. The style of penmanship used in the above volume is very ancient, as may be seen by the open upright letters of the text, the simple but beautifully-shaped initials, and the almost entire absence of abbreviation. Only the same few words as are found abbreviated in the earliest known Codices are contracted in this one. Even the form ε occurs merely three or four times through the MS. and then with a peculiar antiqueness of appearance. And the ι is always marked with two dots, when it stands by another vowel; which is sometimes the case with η also. The words almost run one into the other, with very little distinction; and the lines frequently break syllables in two. The dative case is generally marked by an adjoined "ι," occasionally it is not so distinguished, but the iota is never subscripted as in more recent MSS. and according to modern usage. The blemish of itacism is seldom observable; but there are some few instances of it: in Mark xi. v. 25, τηκεται is written for τηκετε (the Codex Alexandrinus has τηκεται, the Sinaitic τητε); in John ii. v. 6, λεγει appears for λεγγ. Again in John, the word σκορια has evidently been altered from σκορη; μαρτυριαν is written for μαρτυρεαν, etc. All these circumstances point to the fact that the MS. is one of high antiquity and importance. One example alone will evince the critical care bestowed on the work: in the first chapter of John, verse 28, the word Βηθαβαρα, which appears in most of the more modern MS. and in nearly all printed editions (including Wetstein) and translations, was evidently erased by the writer, who has substituted Βηθανια, as it appears in the Alexandrine and Sinaitic Codices. The latter reading is probably to be found in no other MS. of the period. The critics have frequently quarrelled over the correct reading of this passage, the word Bethabara having been substituted by Origen in the 3rd Century for the original Bethania, a change universally accepted. THIS FACT PROVES THAT THE EARLIEST EXISTING MSS., AND NECESSARILY SOME AS EARLY AS THE TIME OF ORIGEN, WERE COLLATED FOR THE PURPOSE OF OBTAINING A PURE TEXT; indeed, the accuracy of this Codex is remarkable in that respect. Some of the variants may be noted here.—In the second chapter of Matthew, rev. 5, we find ερωε where αυτο is given by Wetstein, who, however, admits that the former word is used by the more ancient MSS. In ver. 7 of the same chapter, the words λαθρα καλεσας of the ordinary text are reversed. The words of Christ on the cross are written ΕΙΛΗ ΕΙΛΗ ΛΙΜΑ ΣΑΒΑΘΘΑΝ; thus agreeing with the Alexandrine Codex, while the ordinary text has ΛΙΜΑ, and the Sinaitic "ΕΙΛΗ ΛΙΜΑ." Mat. xxvii. v. 39, gives κεφαλαις αυτων instead of κεφαλαις αυτου, and at verse 43 the words used are πιστευομεν εν αυτω, while the Sinaitic writes εναντων, and the Alexandrine as well as Wetstein's text give αυτω without the article. Mark ix. 33, has και ηλθεν ο Ιησους, while the Codd. Alexandr. and Sinait. as well as Wetstein, omit the nominative. In John i. v. 29, the nominative ο ως is inserted between the lines; the Codd. Alex. and Sinait. omit these words, but Wetstein gives them from his earliest authorities. In John i. 41, δε is left out; ver. 43, Μελαν has but one σ; v. 43 ο omitted; here also the nominative ο Ιησους is transposed according to the Alexandr. Cod., disagreeing with Wetstein. Ver. 45 has Ιωσηφ without the cle ρον, thus again agreeing with the Alexandrine. In John ii. 5, εν is written in the phrase "τι μοι και σοι, γυναιξ;" is probably one of the few errors that our MS. so remarkable for its correctness, but may on the other hand suggest a new reading and signification. In John iv. 14, the position εν is omitted before αυτω; and in every passage some omitted words are added in the margin by a contemporary hand, without doubt that of the reviser. On the whole, this precious monument of Byzantine Art and devotion proves conclusively that when it was written the most ancient sources of knowledge were still accessible, and that even the authorities of the Fathers could not outweigh the demand for a critical revision of the sacred text. It need not scruple to assert, that this MS. is one of the most important accessions to our means of discovering the original and purest form of the Scriptural

2 ALPHABETS OF ARMS, with Forme of Granting Arms, &c. sm. stout 520 pp. containing many thousands of Names of ENGLISH, WELSH, and FRENCH Families; MANUSCRIPT, from the Collection of John Land, whose bookplate, engraved by Hogarth, is pasted inside the cover. £3.

At the end is a Manuscript, entitled "The Order of Lordes and Ladyes with the Funerall of the Quene of Scotts att Peterborough."

8 ALPHABET OF ARMS (A—Sn), folio, 200 pp. MANUSCRIPT, written, hf. calf, 20s

4 ALPHABET OF ARMS (probably by WILLIAM CADY, whose Arms painted on the first leaf), folio, 160 pp. MANUSCRIPT, with various of Arms in colours and in trick, old calf, £10.

This valuable old MS. written at the commencement of the 17th Cent. contains the Names of 4000 Families, with description of their Armorial Bearings.

It would be of great interest to the Genealogist as the Counties are given to most of the Names, and the information has probably not been published.

5 AMERICA. LOS ESPAÑOLES en Mexico, narrow royal folio, MS. consisting of 7 leaves of rude paper, very tough and fibrous, with a number of depictions by "Yndios Comareinos" and others regarding the Mexican Empire previous to the coming of the Christians, bound in half morocco neat, £12.

A MOST CURIOUS AND UNIQUE MS. It bears the official signatures and endorsements, and must have come from the old government archives of the province. There are depositions to the character and conduct of several of the Conquistadores, including some whose antagonism to Cortes proved fatal to themselves.

6 ANGLO-SAXON. GLOSSARY of Anglo-Saxon Words, explained partly Latin, partly in English, sq. 8vo. the Saxon words in red ink, written in an old English hand, and preceded by a few estate-accounts, and translated extracts from various ancient Annalists, old calf, £12. 10s

This curious MS. has come from the Derwent collection, and is one of a very high philological and antiquarian interest. It may be the composition of the well known Sir Edward Deneing who flourished under Charles I.

7 ANTIPHONARIUM, CUM NOTIS MUSICIS, folio, MANUSCRIPT ON YELLOW 165 leaves, with very quaint painted capitals, the musical notes written in Neuma or Neumes (with only one central line), old red morocco gilt, in good preservation, £36.

This VENERABLE and highly interesting relic of antiquity, attributed to the 11th century, is similar in character to a Graduale, bearing date of 1071, which fetched the sum of £20

(No. 154, at Payne's sale, Sotheby's, June 30, 1860), and probably came from the same church. For the History of Sacred Music this is one of the most important volumes, as in the Antiphonarium are preserved those beautiful Chants which the Venerable Bede was so anxious to introduce into our cathedrals, and which admirers of solemn grandeur consider were no way improved when Guido d'Arezzo introduced, in this same century, his newly invented system, of sol-fa-ing.

- 8 ARMORIAL OF FLANDERS, Genealogien Boek, in Dutch, sm. folio, a beautiful original MS. very carefully written, 452 pp. with 805 painted Coats of Arms, Genealogical lists of about 10,000 names, a most important volume, calf, £82. 1863

MS. très précieux du XVIII^e siècle. Il est orné d'une quantité de blasons en or et en couleurs, et précédé d'une miniature de la grandeur du volume, représentant la rhétorique sous la forme d'une femme entourée de professeurs et d'élèves.

- 9 ARMORIAL and CHRONICLE of LORRAINE and BRABANT, in Flemish: Genealogia principum Lotharingiae et Brabantiae, etc. sm. folio, a valuable and well-written MS. of 478 pp. dating from 1191, carried down to 1616, and by later hands to 1744; appended is a List of the Town Council of the City of HERTOGEN BOSCH (Bois le Duc), from 1629-1742—the year of their death added to most of the names, injured at Sotheby's fire, the margins burnt, and the text somewhat waterstained, in a whole blue morocco case, lettered on the back "Cronyck van Brabant," £8. 10s

1616-1744

- 10 BERNARDI (S.) Opusculum de Laudibus Virginis Matris; Sermones LXV. et Institutio quomodo canere et psallere debeamus, 4to. MS. ON VELLUM, much damaged by Sotheby's fire, 25s Sæc. XV.

- 11 BIBLIA LATINA (Gen. xxxv. 11, usque ad IV. Reg. xviii. 27), a venerable MANUSCRIPT ON VELLUM, folio, 288 leaves, with Capitula, in the original oak boards, covered with stamped leather, £25. Sæc. XII.

This important and valuable Manuscript is that cited by C. Vercellone in his "Varia Lectiones Vulgatae Latinae Bibliorum Editionis," as Codex U. It belongs to what is usually termed the "Rosario Alcuina," with which it generally agrees, but exhibits some few important readings not to be found there. The commencement and also the continuation as far as I. Chronicles, 6, are supplied in MS. about 150 years later than the rest of the volume.

- 12 BIBLIA LATINA, à Regibus I. usque ad librum Hester, cum prologis Sancti Hieronymi, large folio, a beautiful German MS. of 165 leaves, on VELLUM, with thirteen finely executed MINIATURES within large initials (mostly 3½ inches square), eight of them illuminated in gold and colours, the other five etched, the writing large and clear, in an elegant Gothic character, the beginning and end slightly damaged, whole bound morocco, blind-tooled, gilt edges, £26. ca. 1440

- 13 BOCCACCIO. BOCHAS (John) FAL OF NOBLES, translated into English Verse (by JOHN LYDGATE, Monke of Bury), sm. folio, FINE MANUSCRIPT of 171 leaves, ON VELLUM, with the initial letters illuminated in gold and colours, red MOROCCO extra, uncut, from Lord Charlemont's library, £50.

The first printed edition of this translation was by Pinson in 1494; the second, also by Pinson, in 1524: they are both excessively rare and expensive. The present MS., which was undoubtedly written in Lydgate's life-time, offers a text very remarkable and valuable from a philological point of view. It seems to be of northern origin, from some peculiarities of the orthography. Ligge is written for lie, hond for hand, oo and oon for one, the participial termination sometimes appears as it, forn is written for before, noth for neither, sustren and luste for sisters and list; the writer uses the Saxon letter ih, and the old gh (gh), spells fader and moder, and maad for made. It always appears as hit.

- 14 BONAVENTURA (Saint) Life of Chryste, and other Devout Pieces of the XVth Century, AN EARLY ENGLISH MANUSCRIPT, ON VELLUM.

A perfect and very extraordinary volume, containing the following pieces, written in Gothic Letter, in double columns, viz. :—

- I. The Booke that is cleped "the Myrrour of the blissed Lyfe of Ihesus Crist," from the Speculum Vite Christi of Bonaventure, with a Shorte

Tretice of the Priestes and moste worthy Sacrament of Criste is blissede body, and the merueulous thereof.

On the recto of the second leaf is a remarkable note, in Latin, of which the following is a translation:—

"Memorandum: that about the year of our Lord One thousand four hundred and ten, the original copy in English of this book (Speculum Vite Christi) was presented at London, by its compiler, to Lord Thomas Arundel, Archbishop of Canterbury, for his inspection and approbation before it was generally circulated; who, after a due inspection, and keeping the book several days, expressed an unqualified approbation of it and by his metropolitan authority, commanded that it should be circulated as an orthodox work for the edification of the faithful and the confutation of heretics or Lollards. Amen." The translator's name is unknown. At the end of the Short Tretyes is "Jhu Lorde thi blissede life helpe and comforte our wretched life. Amen. Explicit Speculum Vite Christi complete."

II. Here begynneth the Boke of the Crafte of Dyinge (Ars Moriendi), with a Tretyse of Cristely Batayle right deboute.

A very popular production of the middle of the XVth century. Caxton is said to have translated it for his own impression, but whether he only improved on the present Version, which there is little doubt preceded his, could only be arrived at by comparing the two:

the lingual differences appear to be many, but as the English language was undergoing great change at the period when this volume was written, a collation of the pieces alone would remove all doubt on the matter.

III. A Lytil Shorte Tretyce, that telleth how ther were VI Masters assemblede togeder, and iche askede othir what thyng thei myght beste speke of that myght beste please God, and were most profytabil to the people, and all thei were accordid to speke of tribulacion. At the close, "Thus is endede a shorte Tretyes of the XII profytes of tribulacion right deuoute."—The translator's name is unknown—in one large vol. folio, 168 leaves of vellum, in double columns, antique calf, £45. Sec. XV. (1410)

A VENERABLE AND TO THE PHILOLOGIST ALMOST PRICELESS ENGLISH MANUSCRIPT, such as has not been offered for sale for many years past. The whole of the pieces were printed at several periods by the Father of English Printing, WILLIAM CAXTON,—whether he used any part of the contents of this volume, must be only conjectured, but certain it is that these are not manuscript copies of his printed productions.

Cartas de Hidalguia:

16 VELASCO. DESPACHO CONFIRMATORIO de los BLASONES de Armas, Noblesa, y Genealogia, Enlaces, Entronques, Meritos, y Servicios, que corresponden a DON CLEMENTE FERNANDEZ DE VELASCO, Garcia de Sedano, Rubio de San Pedro, y Solo de Zaldivar, 4to. The Charter contains interesting historical information regarding the Genealogical descent of the VELASCO FAMILY, and its connection with the most noted and famous houses of the old Spanish Aristocracy.

A most important MS. which ought to be collated with the great edition of the Edda published in 3 vols. 4to. This codex is differently arranged from that which was followed by the printed work. It commences with the Voluspa, or Völo-Spá, which in the latter is the concluding portion, and it affords different readings, of which one may be exemplified:—

- 28 [ETTMUELLER (Michael)] PHILOSOPHIÆ pars quarta: PHYSICA, sq. 8vo. autograph MS. with numerous very neat Diagrams, bd. 7s 6d

Very probably this unpublished work is the fruit of a course of lectures by Ettmüller, who was so distinguished in his time, for scientific and philosophical knowledge.

- 29 EVANGELIARIUM LATINUM, stout sq. 8vo. a very fine early MS. with 3 pages of MUSIC in Neumes, and 30 MINIATURES and large Initials, executed in a most SINGULAR STYLE OF ART, the Evangelists depicted with wings and presenting a grotesque and monstrous appearance, in the original leather covered wooden binding, £84. Sec. XII.

A very precious volume: there is something strange and striking in every one of the illustrations. The winged evangelists, with heads like dogs and lions, are not the least curious feature of the book; and there are several fine initials of quaint and ancient character. Some of the paintings appear imbued with a typical or symbolical signification. There is one large drawing, full page size, in which the ground is all gold; an angel's figure painted on it, upholding a cloth, against which the crowned and bleeding head of Christ looks forth from the page; the letters I. H. S. in gold underneath.

On the first page there is a Latin dedication in Leonine verse, by an Abbot of Prüm (a famous school and Monastery founded in the eighth Century) to the Virgin Mary; and the second, third, and fourth pages are occupied by a curious deed of gift from Reinhardt de Rumersheim to the Monastery, this being perhaps a hundred and fifty years later than the rest of the book, with the exception of two pages of still more modern composition, between the music and the text, in which the dependencies of the Abbey are recounted.

- 30 EVANGELIUM S. Matthæi Græco-Latinum, sm. fol. MS. of the XVth Century, on Paper, with MINIATURES, badly damaged by fire, in a morocco case, with flaps, £17. 10s Sæc. XV.

A very interesting volume, containing several very singular Miniatures executed in colours, in a style marked by oriental influence. The Devil tempting Christ is one of the subjects. In 1465 this Manuscript was presented to the Convent of St. Epiphanius. It begins with two Epistles of Saint Jerome, after which follows a sort of commentary on the arrangement of the Gospels. An epistle of St. Ambrose in Latin, and the Nicene Creed in Greek; with a record of the donation of the book, are found at the end. The text of the Gospel is quite perfect, with the exception perhaps of a few letters.

- 21 EVANGELIA IV. GRÆCE, said to be written by GEORGE HERMONYMUUS of SPARTA, the teacher of Budæus and Reuchlin, sm. 4to. a remarkably well written Greek MS. with 4 curious DRAWINGS, and Initial Letters in gold; quite perfect, and in excellent preservation, olive morocco extra, by THOUVENIN, £8. circa 1520

Though this MS. was probably written after the invention of printing, there is no doubt, that it was copied from a much earlier MS. Biblical writers are invited to examine this manuscript.

- 32 FIREWORKS. Method of Making Fireworks, folio, 274 pp. and Index, clearly written, sd. 7s ca. 1770

- 33 FOXA (Juan de) CRONICA HIEROSOLIMITANA: Historia de la Sacra Religion y Milicia de San Juo. Baptista de Hierusalem, la qual recogió y compuso Fray Juo. de Foxa, cavallero de la misma Orden, 2 parts in 1 vol. sm. folio, AUTOGRAPH MS. on 374 leaves of paper, closely written, calf extra, £9. 9s 1576

This work, which is of the greatest historical importance has NEVER BEEN PUBLISHED. Tassio de Vargas quotes it from the autograph, which Antonio, (who never saw it) states to have been in the library of the Conde de Olivares. The above is THE ORIGINAL AUTOGRAPH, and identically the same as that quoted by Vargas, and mentioned on hearsay by Antonio. "At the end of the second part are these words, "Fin de la segunda parte de la Chronica Hierosolimitana, J. F." "Hay en este libro 374 fojas escritas—a 20 de 7bre 1576, J. F." This inscription leaves no doubt that it is from the hand of the author himself. Antonio's hint that it might be a mere translation from Bosio's work on the same subject, is controverted by the fact, stated in the introduction to the second part, that the first part had provoked a great display of ill-will and enmity towards the author on the part of interested persons. It had most probably been read over by Foxa in literary circles; and the adverse feelings of men in power may be considered a sufficient cause for its having remained unprinted to the present day.

- 34 GENEALOGIES OF BRITISH NOBLE FAMILIES, MS. of 184 pp. of paper, roy. folio, neatly written and tabulated, containing genealogical lists of nearly 200 titled families, beginning with Aylesbury (Bruce) and ending with Wentworth, £8. 10s 1770-96

- 36 HIERONYMI (S.) EPISTOLÆ, sm. folio, SPLENDID ITALIAN MANUSCRIPT, in Latin, upon the PUREST VELLUM, of 286 leaves, in the most elegant character, the first page encircled in a beautiful ITALIAN ARABESQUE BORDER, with a small miniature evidently by an artist of high merit, in the finest state of preservation, bound in vellum, £12.

written by J. Grassus Carpensis, Ferraria, 1467

It may be remarked that this voluminous and interesting correspondence of St. Jerome is of very unusual occurrence in Manuscript.

- 37 HOMILIE ET SERMONES, cum LECTIIONARIO veterum Patrum; nempe Augustini, Bedæ, Leonis et Gregorii Paparum, Fulgentii, Maximi, Origenis, etc. large folio, MANUSCRIPT, ON VELLUM OF THE VIIIth or IXth CENTURY, 289 leaves, meas. generally 18½ inches by 13, in double columns, brown morocco, in compartments, £175. SEC. VIII.-IX.

A magnificent Manuscript, in two columns, in Merovingian characters, with an admixture of Saxon and rude Gothic. It contains more than two hundred initials, some of which are upwards of half a foot in height, in various colours. The style of these initials is very angular, and they present to view a number of interlaced lines and crossbars similar to those seen in the famous Evangelistarium written by Bishop Eadfrith in honour of St. Cuthbert, between the years 698 and 720 of the Christian Era, so admired in the British Museum. Although more square, the form of the letter G is the same as that indicated in the Saxon Alphabet represented in the second volume of the Nouveau Traité de Diplomatique, published by the Benedictines. The body of this Manuscript has a great resemblance to the one of St. Isidore ("Bibliotheca Regia Parisiensis," No. 2994 A), which is of the VII—VIIIth Century, and of which a facsimile can be seen in Plate LI of the third volume of the Nouveau Traité de Diplomatique, but the writing of this Manuscript is more regular and finer. The Homilia here described is a palæographic monument of the highest importance. At once a Homiliarium and a Lectionarium, it is doubly valuable as a monument of ancient Liturgy, and as containing a very large number of Pieces by the VENERABLE BEDE. It contains 289 leaves, w an ancient numbering, which proves that the first nine are deficient. Besides the Initials and the writing of the entire Manuscript, which is very fine, most remarkable are the numerous Rubrics, in red and blue, written in capitals interlaced in a peculiar style. The reverse of the 130th leaf is entirely occupied with a magnificent Initial in various colours, measuring 16½ inches in height, accompanied by an inscription in large letters, interlaced in the style of monograms to be found in certain very ancient Charters, and arranged by great lines alternately in red and blue, commencing thus:

EXPLICIT LIBER HOMELIARUM PARTIS
PRIME, &c.

This magnificent page has been facsimiled in Libri's INEDITED MONUMENTS.

Mr. Libri is manifestly wrong in attributing this MS. to the Seventh Century; for BEDE died at the age of 63 in the year 735; and it is generally admitted now that he did not receive the epithet of "Venerable" (which is here given to him) till after his death. It is therefore probable that this MS. was not executed till late in the Eighth or early in the Ninth Century, and was probably the work of some Saxon monk upon the Continent, most likely in France. The shape of the letters partakes much of the Anglo-Irish and, in a less degree of the Roman style of Charlemagne's period, but is entirely without the rudeness of construction and irregular character of the writing which prevailed in France at that time. There is a singular exactness and equality of form throughout; and the writer must have been a man of refined taste, judging from the symmetry of his work, and the constant variations in the shape of the initials, which nearly all differ from each other, yet have a bold and felicitous elegance quite remarkable. The chief feature of the ornamentation is the multiplied interlacing, which was first used in Irish MSS., and introduced upon the continent during the seventh and eighth centuries; and which flourished there till the twelfth century, then dying out, to be reproduced as an accessory in the Italian MSS. of the fourteenth century. The green, purple, blue, and red colours used in painting the initials, are of that dark and peculiar tint only met with in the most ancient MSS.

There are some slight peculiarities in the orthography, not very frequent indeed, but which may be remarked. The letters B and V appear to be interchangeable; for instance, the word lavor is to be met instead of labor, and Venerabilis for Venerabilis. Nihil is spelt Nich, and charitas begins with a k instead of ch. On leaf 34, at the commencement of one of Bede's Homilies is a heading which appears to read thus, in mingled Western and Greek characters: "Eabacthanse Prbr." Its meaning is left to conjecture.

This Manuscript evidently formed at one time a valuable portion of some Spanish monastic library. On the first page (which was originally the nineteenth, being the obverse of the tenth leaf) there is a memorandum, in Spanish handwriting, possibly two hundred years old, which runs thus: "Sermones y Homilias de varios Santos Padres, de el tiempo, y festividades particul." On the front of leaf 30, at the beginning of a Sermon of "Fulgencius Episcopus," there is a Latin memorandum, also in a Spanish hand.

38 HORÆ LATINÆ, cum CALENDARIO, etc. INCIPIT OFFICIUM DE SANCTA CRUCE, etc. 24mo. a beautiful little MS. in the finest state of preservation, with 15 exquisite MINIATURES of full-page size, within elaborate Arabesque borders which enclose minor figures, grotesques, beasts, flowers, and 13 other Paintings of still smaller size within illuminated initials, all the capitals executed in gold and colours, old calf extra, gilt edges, £28. Sec. XV.

This charming little volume is the work of an Italian artist, and was executed for a Cardinal, whose arms are painted at foot of the first miniature; the scarlet hat surmounting a small golden cross above a shield of gold and blue; the figure of a goat, salient, printed in gold on the central blue.

39 HORÆ LATINÆ, 8vo. portion of a Book of Hours, on 55 leaves of VELLUM, in large clear character, with coloured Arabesque borders, illuminated initials, and 13 MINIATURES remarkably well executed in gold and colours, of Flemish or French origin, red morocco gilt, £5. 15s. Sec. XV.

A curious lot; the result of the investigation that he had failed to defeat the combined French was not made public, but the Admiral retired and Spanish fleets opposed to him at Toulon in from the navy. The charge against him was 1744.

- 51 MISSALE ROMANUM, small folio, written in large and regular Gothic characters, with rubricated initials, some of them ILLUMINATED and very large, and the MUSIC noted in various places, in the original wooden binding, the upper face inlaid with brass plates, charged with elaborate work, one large central figure in high relief, almost nine inches long, executed in brass, with two ivory figures of less size, at the side, and four smaller figures carved in the corners, £84. - 56 PALAFOX Y MENDOZA (Juan de, Arzobispo de la Puebla y de Osma) Beatificationis et Canonizationis ejus Animadversiones Bottinii aliorumque, folio, a collection of the various Documents and Letters relative to his dispute with the Jesuits in Mexico, in Spanish, Latin, or Italian, most of them in MANUSCRIPT, vellum, £2. 10s

An interesting and important volume. It contains the written opinions of a great number of Prelates upon the "calumnious and horrible letter," which was written by Palafox from his Bishopric in Mexico, concerning the conduct of the Jesuit Fathers there. All of them express the utmost horror in reading such a document, but they agree in affecting to consider that he was not the real author, and that it should be no objection to his canonization.

- 57 PAULI (S.) EPISTOLÆ, cum Commento et Glossis, folio, SPLENDID MANUSCRIPT ON VELLUM, with grotesque painted capitals, 141 leaves, in the best preservation, bound in the original oak boards, covered with leather, elegantly blind tooled, £10.

Sæc. XIII.-XIV.

This beautiful MS. is headed "Liber Sci Ruphi. Si quis ei abstulerit Anathema sit." The binding, however, shows that in the XVth century it must have been transferred to those great collectors of Manuscripts, the illustrious family de Medici.

A most valuable Manuscript with the inscription "ad Julianum Consulē," omitted by Krehl, and presenting many important various readings. The last two leaves are in a ruder style of penmanship than the rest of the work, and without commentaries.

- 61 PRISCIANI de Grammatica Libri xv, large 8vo. 243 leaves of VELLUM, the first and last few damaged by fire, brown morocco, blind tooled, gilt edges, £8. 10s Sec. XV.

"In a beautiful Italian hand, with illuminated capitals, having in front the inscription "ad Julianum Consulē ac Patricium," which Krehl omits, as he was unable to find it in any manuscript he collated.

This fine manuscript exhibits a very pure text, the Greek quotations being supplied in a different hand, and the correct digamma used whenever it occurs. As the XVth book in Krehl's edition is divided into two, in reality this manuscript ought to be described as exhibiting "Libri XVI." Numerous various readings occur; and this MS. will be most important in the preparation of any future edition. A curious fact is that this manuscript does not contain any mention of Theodorus, and also that there is scarcely any division of the work into different books.

- 62 PSALMORUM LIBER, stout large 8vo. a Latin MS. OF ENGLISH ORIGIN of the Thirteenth Century, with initials illuminated and coloured, several large ones enclosing MINIATURES with figures by an ENGLISH ARTIST, red morocco extra, gilt edges, £6. 10s

There are some prayers in Italian at the end of the Psalms, the orthography of which determines the age of the MS. The Greek is written in a small upright character, very clear; and the Latin in a somewhat larger hand, with the peculiar long f occurring in every position of a word.

This second work, the "Belial" of J. Paladino Teramo, who was Archdeacon of Aversa, and became in 1400 Archbishop of Tarentum, is a grotesque romance, in which Christ, represented by Moses, is accused by Satan before the judgment seat of Solomon; and the style of argument used, with the curious illustrations from scripture, makes it one of the most singular works of the Middle Ages.

- An interesting monument of the famous Poggio Fiorentino, who filled the position of Apostolic Secretary to so many Popes,—amongst them, John XXIII; and whose name has descended to our time, not merely as the author of the "Facetiae" afterwards used by La Fontaine, but as one of the most learned and energetic of the restorers of ancient literature. His visit to England about the year 1420 is also to be remembered; although he gained by it little beyond a flattering reception from the notorious Cardinal Beaufort.

This great compilation, although largely rivalling the Manuel of Brunet, is however different from the latter in comprising works in the literature of every country. For French books Brunet is naturally superior, but Graesse gives equal attention to the Northern, Slavonic, and Oriental Literatures; as to the better known languages of Europe. He also gives in most instances the collation of the works, and the prices fixed by the most eminent booksellers as well as the sums fetched at auctions.

"Mr. Lecky has written an admirable book, full of learning and acute criticism, on the modernization of the Christian theology; it is exceedingly full of facts illustrative of the vitality and decay of dogmatic ideas. His account of the belief in witchcraft, for instance, and of the persecution which that belief entailed at the period when the minds of men were first disturbed by the encroachments of modern scepticism, is exceedingly instructive."—Pall Mall Gazette, April 5, 1865.

"Mr. Lecky receives in the fifth article, [Edinburgh Review, April, 1865], the praise he so well deserves for the boldness of his opinions and the beauty of his style. It is said of him, that no other Irishman since Burke, has devoted his talents with equal success to political philosophy."—The Reader, April 22, 1865.

450 MONBODDO (Lord) Antient Metaphysics, or the Science of Universals, with an appendix examining the principles of Sir Isaac Newton's philosophy, 6 vols. in 3, 4to. £2. 10s Edinb. 1779-99

Priced, 1839, Longman, £3. 3s; fetched, 1860, Sotheby's, £2. 10s.

Fine copy of a celebrated work by the creator of a vast and astonishing, though paradoxical system, which won from Herder the highest testimony to the genius of Lord Monboddo. Endowed with wonderful learning and talent, he yet holds such opinions as that of considering the ourang-outang a degraded form of the human species, a belief in the existence of syrens, etc. He maintained that all imaginable objects, however odd or monstrous, had their archetypes in nature; an assertion to which Johnson retorted that he believed it, since nature had produced a Monboddo.

EARLY PRINTED BOOKS, LIVRES D'HEURES, AND ROMANCE LITERATURE.

A. DENMARK.

539 BIBLIA, det ar, den gantske Hellige Schrifft udsøet paa Danske, 3 parts in 1 vol. sm. folio, EDITIO PRINCEPS, titles within woodcut borders, the first title slightly injured, and last leaf mounted, portrait and numerous fine bold woodcuts through the text, old calf, £5. Köbenhaffn, Dietz, 1550

RARE: it is the first edition of the Scriptures complete in the Danish language. The translation (from Luther's Version) was undertaken by command of Christian III, of whom a woodcut portrait is given on the back of the title; that of Joshua, on A 1, is curious, as he is there represented in a complete suit of German armour! The woodcuts display admirable freedom and boldness of design. Complete copies are very rare. Thorpe priced one in 1835, £7. 7s; Dr. Hawtreys, a soiled copy, bound in morocco, fetched, 1853, £12.; a poor mended copy fetched, 1854, 4 guineas.

B. ENGLAND.

540 FROISSART (SIR JOHN) CRONICLES of England, Fraunce, Spaygne, Portyngale, Scotlande, Bretayne, Flaunders, and other places adioynnyng, translated out of Frenche in to englysshe by Johan Bouchier knyght LORDE BERNERS, 2 vols. in 1, stout small folio, FIRST AND GENUINE EDITION, fine copy in old russia gilt, by Roger Payne, £35.

London, Richarde Pynson, 1523-25

EXCESSIVELY RARE. The Roxburghe copy fetched £63.; Sir M. Sykes', £42.; Hibbert's £22.; a copy fetched at Puttick's in 1858, £40.; another in 1860, £55. The work generally occurs made up of two or three editions, even then commanding from its rarity a very high price; but the present copy is throughout of Pinson's original issue, in fine sound state, with the exception of the title to Vol. I. (which is supplied from Middleton's) and the last leaf of Vol. II. which is of Pinson's second issue. Thus the entire work, excepting only the title of Vol. I, is from the press of Richard Pinson, and thus deserves to rank amongst the noblest monuments of early typography in England.

London, T. Berthelette, 1532

Valentine Sims for William Aspley, 1599

A similar copy of this very scarce old Play fetched £56. at Mr. Daniel's sale. In the Introduction there is apparently a fling at Shakespeare's Richard III. Henry V. Macbeth, and Hamlet:—

"How some damnd tyrant to obtaine a crowne Stabs, hangs, impoysons, smothers, cutteth throats,

And then a chorus too comes howling in,
And tels us of the worrying of a cat,
Then of a filthy whining ghost,
Lapt in some fowle sheete, or a leather pelch,
Comes skreaming like a pigge halfe stickt,
And cries Vindicta, revenge, revenge."

49 SHAKESPEARE (W.) THE CHRONICLE HISTORY OF HENRY THE FIFT, with his battell fought at Agin Court in France, together with Ancient Pistoll, as it hath bene sundry times played by the Right Honourable the Lord Chamberlaine his Seruants, sq. sm. 8vo. fine copy in red morocco extra, gilt edges, by C. S. S. for William Apsley, 1600

The scarcest of all the works of this celebrated dramatist; no copy has occurred for sale since many years. Dekker's poetical merit is of a high order, though full of fantastic conceits, notwithstanding the depreciation of some critics.

51 MAXWELL (James) MONVMENT OF REMEMBRANCE erected in Albion, in honor of the magnificent Departvre from Britannie, and honorable receiuing in Germany, at Heidelberge, of Princes Frederick and Elizabeth, the onely Daughter of our Soueraigne Lord, sq. sm. 8vo. hf. bd. VERY RARE, £2. 10s 1613

(at end) Paris, par Guillaume Anabat, . . . pour Gillet Hardouin . . . et pour Germain Hardouin, (1500)

This is undoubtedly the finest edition of the Book of Hours published by the Hardouins, and is a worthy rival to the contemporary productions of Simon Vostre, which have been so much admired. There are more figures in this edition than in any other of the same book, the frontispiece, like the one facsimiled in Brunet (Heures Gothiques, No. 217), representing the Rape of Dejanira. The Calendar contains the years 1500 to 1520; the number of leaves is 143 (signatures A to S iv, in eights,—sheet A not marked), with 22 lines a page; yet the difference of a few letters in the superscription—viz. the error of "en la seigne" appearing twice instead of once—and the fact that "la grande figure No. 17," is not "La mort a cheval sur un boeuf," (being in fact, the death of Uriah through the treachery of David) prove that this is a different edition from the article described by Brunet.—The Dance of Death is not figured in the borderings.

556 ROMAN DE LA ROSE. C'est le roman de la rose, Moralise cler et net, Translate de rime en prose, Par vostre humble MOLINET, smallest folio, black letter, numerous woodcuts, singularly fine copy in old French calf gilt, edges gilt, VERY RARE, £52. 10s Paris, pour Anthoine Verard, s. d. (1503 ?)

COLLATION: Title and table, 4 leaves; and back of the last leaf—being signatures a to gg text, leaves 1—181, the printer's mark on the iv.

- 557 HORE DIUE VIRGINUS MARIE scd'm verum vsu[m] Roma- | num cum aliis
multis folio sequenti notatis characteri | bus suis diligentius impresso per Thielmannu Kercuer, 12mo. PRINTED ON VELLUM, 104 leaves, Roman Letter; with 18 large woodcut figures, the text within pretty woodcut borders, containing about 500 small engravings of Biblical Scenes and figures, etc. parts of the Calendar, the headings, and the marginal extracts printed in red ink, the initials illuminated, fine copy, in ancient smooth red morocco, gilt edges, £20. Paris, 1504

This volume would exactly correspond with the edition described by Brunet (Heures Gothiques, No. 175), but for the following variations: the first year of the Calendar is, correctly, 1497 (not, as he says, incorrectly 1487); Kercuer's mark and name appear only on page 1, not, as Brunet asserts, on the last page also, where the printer's name is seen in the imprint, and there is no mark; besides two other trifling discrepancies which need not be noted.—Brunet mentions two copies, one on paper, which sold at Solar's sale for 475 francs, and the other on vellum, in M. Didot's library.

- 558 HORE INTEMERATE DEI GENITRICIS VIRGINIS MA | RIE secundum usum
Romanum totaliter ad lon | gum, etc. large 8vo. printed on fine VELLUM, printer's mark on title, and 18 large engravings, the text entirely within woodcut borders, containing a great profusion of smaller woodcuts, including a series of the Dance of Death, the initial and capital letters illuminated, beautifully bound in smooth dark morocco, elaborately tooled in the Grolier style with red morocco linings, and joints, gilt edges, £36.

Paris, T. Kerver, le dernier iour de Mars, 1511 (P 1506)

COLLATION: 100 leaves, consisting of signatures a to n iv. This edition is not mentioned by Brunet. The date 1511 appears to be a typographical error for 1506 (easily made from the similarity in form of the Gothic v and x), as the calendar begins with the latter date (1506-30).

- 559 MAILLARDI (Oliverii) Sermones Latini, 6 vols. 12mo. gothic letter, calf

RARE, £8. Paris, Guil. Eustace, 1517

COLLATION: Title in red and black, with printer's mark on the front and royal arms on the reverse, privilege, and table, together six leaves; two leaves containing a large woodcut, with three figures on the first page, the Introduction on the second and third, and the woodcut of the King and the Author on the fourth; text, leaves 1-141, the last three not numbered.

cut borders, gothic letter, 19 large woodcuts, full-page size, with an infinite number of small engravings, including a series of 90 which represent a complete Dance of Death, fine impressions, the initials coloured and illuminated, fine copy in old calf, gilt edges, £25. Paris, S. Vostre, s. a. (cir. 1520)

This splendid edition by Vostre is nowhere mentioned, nor does it shew a resemblance to any of those enumerated by Brunet. There is no date in it, but the Almanack extends from 1520 to 1536. COLLATION: a (which is not marked) to p, and a, e, i, all in eight, except d, which has four leaves.

Absque ullâ notâ (circa 1490)

Cette édition, en vers allemands et latins est la première que l'on ait de ce poëme originairement écrit dans le XIII. Siècle. Déjà en 1508 elle était si rare que le célèbre Seb. Brant en-treprit une édition refondue, comme il fait remarquer sur titre, pour sauver l'ouvrage de l'oubli.

Printed, 1841, 1842, Thorpe, £4. 14s 6d. These six tracts, "in den Kloster St. Ulrich gedruckt, 1473," bear the same degree of rarity as our books printed at St. Albans. It is one of the very rare productions of the press established by the Prior Melchior de Stamham, in the Monastery of St. Ulrich and Afra at Augsburg, and is minutely described by Panzer in his Annalen, 1788, p. 71.

568 REGIMEN SANTTATIS, Hie hebt sich an das register uñ die capi | tel dises nach geschriben büchclins ge | nannt Regimen, the four parts complete, 52 leaves, the last blank, Bämle, 1476—EIN REGIMENT der Jungen Kinder, title and table in red, 26 leaves, Bämle, (14)76—SCHRICK (Michel) Hie nach stend verczeychnet die aussgeprañten wasser, 16 leaves, the last blank, Bämle, (14)77—3 vols. in 1, sm. folio, old calf, fine copy, £2.

EXTREMELY RARE. At the end of the volume are two German MSS. of about 50 leaves each, contemporary with the printed matter, written in red and black, treating upon Herbs, their uses, and of Diseases; of which the first is in German and Latin verse.

schools, such as women and mechanics."

570 Bamberg. SPECIALE MISSARU scd'm chorū BAMBERGENS; sm. folio, woodcut initials and Coat of Arms of the Bishop of Bamberg, all coloured, printed in red and black, with types of various sizes, the Canon of the Mass in very large character, fine copy in the original stamped hogskin, with clasps, £5. (Bambergæ), Pfeyl, 1508

- 571 Basel. SPIEGEL. IN GOTTES NAMMEN AMEN. HIE VOHET AN EIN SPIEGEL DER MENSCHLICHEN BEHALTNISZE, folio. 278 rude woodcuts, fine sound copy in stamped hogskin, £20. Basel, Bernhart Richel, 1476

EXCESSIVELY RARE. This copy in common with most others, including those of the Bodleian and British Museum, contains 234 leaves; in accordance also with the descriptions in Panzer and Ebert. Brunet merely quotes the description, never having seen a copy himself. Only one copy is known to possess the 235th leaf containing a Register; and that is in the Munich Library. There is no copy either in the Berlin Royal Library, or at Cambridge.—The woodcuts in this fine old book, viewed as works of art, are indeed rude, but they faithfully convey mediæval conceptions of divine and religious subjects. There are no repetitions as in most other of the monuments of early Typography; but every engraving represents a different subject, the first being Lucifer's Fall and the last, the Virgin's Coronation.

- 572 Cologne. VOCABULARIUS Fructuosus omni ætati perutilis ex Papia, Britone, Catholico, Alano, Ysidoro, aliisque quamplurimis Magistris collectus, qui alio nomine Brevilogus nuncupatur, folio, remarkably fine copy, russiæ extra, very rare, £4. (Coloniæ, per Conradum de Hoemborch, 1470)

A noble specimen of typography in the infancy of the art; printed without signatures, pagination, catch-words, and colophon. The capitals filled in by hand with red ink. Not mentioned by Brunet nor Hain.

- 573 MACER FLORIDUS de Viribus Herbr/ | famosissimus medicus & Medicor | Speculum, sq. 8vo. numerous woodcuts of the plants, with portrait engraved on obverse and reverse of title, calf neat, 35s

The gothic type used in this rare work resembles that used by the French printers of the time. COLLATION: a to g iv. in eights, being

s. l. a. et typ. n. (Coloniæ, circ. 1480) 52 leaves, with 33 to 34 lines per page. It is not identical with the similar edition quoted by Hain and Brunet.

580 ORTUS SANITATIS, (cum Tractatu de Urinis) [auctore J. Cuba] stout sm. fol. an immense number of curious woodcuts of Plants, Animals, Fishes, and Stones, fine clean copy, in calf, £5. Moguntiae, J. Meydenbach, 1491

A very rare edition, preferable to all others on account of the excellent woodcuts; which in this copy are quite uncoloured and in the best condition. The treatise "De Urinis" is smaller in size than the rest of the book. This work, according to Mr. Swainson, was probably one of the very first attempts to represent animals by woodcuts. He terms it "a most curious and exceedingly rare book."

581 HALSGERICHT. KARLS V peinlich Gerichtsordnung, Meyntz, Schöffers, 1542—Bambergische Halsgerichtsordnung, Meyntz, Schöffers, 1538—PER NEDER's Halsgerichtsordnung, Ingolstat, Meyessenhorn, 1544—3 vols. in 1, sm. folio, numerous large and well-executed woodcuts representing acts of punishment, trial, etc. some with very curious inscriptions, hf. morocco, £2. 2s 1538-44

A copy was priced in 1860, by Weigel in Leipzig, 78 thalers. The second part, which has no separate title, but bears the date of 1610 in the imprint, is very rare. Amongst others there are Valentine and Orson, in four parts; Melusina, in two parts; Edward III. of England; Der Engelländisch Jahn Posset; Eulenspiegel, &c.

584 Oppenheim. PASSIO DOMINI, litteraliter et moraliter ab HENRICO DE FIRMARIA explanata, sq. sm. 8vo. 16 leaves, including title, on which is a large engraving, with several small and curious woodcuts in the text, bds. vellum back, VERY RARE, £2. 10s Oppenheim, s. a. (cir. 1500)

A fine copy of this rare Romance; which is particularly interesting to English collectors, not merely because the heroine is made a British queen, but because this translation from the French original was made by "Heleonora, queen of Scotland, archduchess of Austria."

E. HOLLAND AND BELGIUM.

594 Haerlem. (GLANVIL) BARTOLOMEUS ENGELSMAN, Boeck welck gheheiten is bartholomeus van den Proprieteyten der Dinghen, stout folio, 445 leaves, 12 large woodcuts, on separate leaves, including the printer's device at the end; the initial letters of each of the 19 books are painted, those of each chapter rubricated; fine large copy in Dutch calf gilt, in excellent preservation, £8. Haerlem, Bellaert, 1486

A magnificent specimen of early printing. The paper and type are equally admirable. After all the pretensions of a fabulous Coster, it must be ranked among the first productions of the Haarlem press, and is the ONLY book known to have been printed by Bellaert. It is a volume of great rarity. The present is a particularly choice, clean, large copy, with all the woodcuts complete. This is a circumstance of very rare occurrence, since in most copies, some one or other of these cuts are always wanting. The printer's device, surrounded with a curious border, occupies a separate leaf at the end.

This edition is much sought after, not only as being a great rarity, and including for the first time, the commentary of Landino, but also as containing some of the very first specimens of copper-plate engravings. Baccio Baldini, the engraver, was the contemporary and successor of Maso Finiguerra, to whom the discovery of the art is generally attributed. This is, says Dr. Dibdin, a volume of considerable interest among the collectors both of books and prints. See a long and interesting account of it in the Bibliotheca Spenceriana, vol. iv. p. 109.

This is the first Polyglott ever printed with the characters peculiar to each language. 675 CHINESE ART. NUY FOO PO KOO TOO: Representations of Ancient Objects in the Imperial Palace, 13 vols.—HAN SZE LOO KIEN, Four Birds, Mirror of the Han Dynasty, 2 vols.—together 15 vols. imp. 8vo. about 1000 beautiful engravings of Vases and other works of ANCIENT CHINESE ART, contained in 5 Chinese cases, with an old French calf back, and lettered "Vases de l'Empereur de Chine," and "Gravures sur Pierre," with the arms of Lord Stuart de Rothesay on the sides, £16. 16s circ. 1720

There is no text or descriptions in these fine volumes, which consist wholly of large and finely executed engravings, representing elegant Vases and other vessels, and ornamental objects of various kind worked in ivory and other precious materials. They are chiefly selected for elaborateness or peculiarity of design, and for intrinsic value; most of them adorned with figures on the sides, and speaking highly for the decorative art of China. The last two volumes contain representations only of the backs of ancient Mirrors, which are charged with inscriptions. All these objects were preserved from periods of the most remote antiquity, beginning with the eighteenth century before Christ, and speaking wonderfully for the taste of their ancient possessors, as well as of the compilers of the above work. These volumes are said to have originally come (and certainly not by honest means) from the Imperial Library in Pekin. For an interesting account of the work, and of the illustrations in it, see "Thom's Chinese Vases," 8vo. 1851, in which some of the engravings are reproduced.

"Some years ago the design of publishing Les Historiens des Gaules et de la France was resumed on a larger scale and in a more splendid form; and although the name of Dom Bouquet stands foremost, the merit must be shared amongst the veteran Benedictines of the Abbey of St. Germain des Prés at Paris. This noble collection may be proposed as a model for such national works; the original texts are corrected from the best manuscripts; the curious reader is enlightened without being oppressed by the perspicuous brevity of the preface and notes. But a multitude of obstacles and delays seem to have impeded the progress of the undertaking; and the historians of France had only attained the twelfth century and the thirteenth volume, when a general deluge overwhelmed the country and its ancient inhabitants."—Gibbon's Miscellaneous Works, vol. 2, p. 713.

"The tables of contents and the index are framed with so much minuteness as to bring, in a few minutes, before the reader's eye, all that can be found respecting any fact within the period of the collection, and the dissertations are so copious and ably executed, that there seldom is a point of importance where the writers have not collected the learning and sentiments of all preceding writers. Dom Bouquet lived to finish the first eight volumes; on his decease, the work was put into the hands of Dom Haudiquier, who had, in Dom Bouquet's life-time, learned the Arabic language, to enable him to print, with a translation, the authors who have written in that language upon the Crusades. Both writers were Benedictine monks of St. Maur; and invaluable as the work is, it is by no means the only work of the same calibre for which we are indebted to that learned community."—Works of C. Butler, vol. 2, p. 5. (Appendix.)

"Bouquet is a name better known to the continental historian than any other compiler and editor, and indeed almost every one who has studied the earlier portions of English history, must be familiar with the sound. This Benedictine was commissioned by his order to draw up one of those immense works which, from time to time, have been the peculiar boast of the French literary world and to which we have nothing to compare in our country. It was considered desirable that all ancient and mediæval writers upon the history of France should be collected into one immense corpus historicum for the good of the nation."—H. L. Jones, in Gent.'s Mag., Dec. '55.

"This work, edited by the late Dr. Morrison, contains a great variety of valuable and curious papers."—MacCulloch.

This valuable Repository is of great importance to Oriental scholars; its scarcity is so great that few of the public Libraries of England can boast of complete sets; on the Continent the work is vainly sought after. Abel Remusat could never get sight of it; and complains of it in his preface to his Chinese Grammar. China is a world of its own on this Globe; so much independent thought and so many wonderful achievements in Arts, Literature, and Industry, are entirely peculiar to the Chinese, that European readers will derive the greatest interest and profit from the careful study of this "Chinese Repository," which embodies the most accurate information on the Celestial Empire.

"All preceding collections of Northern Antiquities were exceeded equally in splendour, utility, and extent, by the meritorious labours of LANGEBEK, whose collection has now become a work of uncommon occurrence. The editor was doubtless the Bouquet of Denmark. It is said that the present venerable and learned Dr. Thorkelin, principal librarian of the Royal Library at Copenhagen, seldom pronounces the name of Langebek without passing his hand across his eyes, or placing it on his heart. This is as it should be."—Dibdin's Lib. Comp.

This valuable and splendid work on the Noble Families of Italy by Count Litta, unequalled by any genealogical publication in the world, has for some time lain comparatively useless. In fact it has not existed as a book, but merely as a collection of genealogical tables, with superb plates, which could only be used with trouble and a loss of time. It has hitherto been found a great difficulty to arrange the work for binding, from the fact that no other titles and collations to the various families existed beyond those on the wrappers; no general titles, table of contents, and indexes having ever been issued with the book. The advertiser having sold many copies of this splendid publication was so much struck with the necessity of supplying those deficiencies, that he has arranged and printed at his expense the above Titles, Tables of Contents, and General Index. By means of this set of Titles, &c. Fascicolo 1 to Dispensa 136 can be bound in 8 volumes. The continuation, Dispense 137-151, Milan, 1858-66, will form volume IX. A Title and Table of Contents of Vol. 9 will be issued by the advertiser as soon as material enough for such a volume has been published.

Having had considerable experience in binding Litta's work, I offer my assistance to proprietors of sets. Gentlemen possessing incomplete copies can have imperfections and the continuation supplied.

1293 — the same, Vols. 7-12, 4to. vellum, £7. 10s

The above interesting collection of Periodical Writings is of the greatest rarity. Thorpe, in one of his Catalogues, states that a gentleman had assured him he could meet with but one copy in his travels through Spain, for which he was asked upwards of £30.

It is generally found defective, and copies vary to a considerable degree. The above copy is no exception to this rule; it wants Nos. 303, 4, in Vol. IX. which are very frequently absent. Some Nos. have been omitted, while the pagination remains correct; and sometimes there are two with the same No., although the text runs on correctly. The last part of Vol. XI is number 382, yet the first of Vol. XII receives number 583, from which the numeration proceeds to the end (No. 611), although nothing is deficient. The periodical seems to have been produced under great difficulties and discouragements; it was suppressed by the Spanish government, as the enlightened opinions which the French Revolution had first set afloat were gaining popularity amongst the educated youth of Spanish Peru. There is a sort of indignant bitterness in the title of the last volume which stated to be "dado a luz por uno de los individuos de la Sociedad."

"The latest and best edition (the 26th) of a very useful work."—Horne. Moreri's Dictionary is perhaps the most useful of all the old works of reference on historical and miscellaneous subjects, particularly Genealogy. Heath's copy fetched £24. 3s; Stanley's, £18. 5s; 1853, at Sotheby's, morocco, £10. 15s.

"This (says Brunet) is the twentieth, the last, and best edition of a work, which, notwithstanding its numerous errors, is a very useful one.

The first, and the only one which was published in the author's lifetime, appeared at Lyons, in 1674, in 1 vol. folio." "This work, like the water of the fountain-head, lost in the expanse of the river, retains scarcely anything but the name of its original planner. The materials have been so corrected and enlarged, that according to Voltaire, it resembles a new city built on the ancient plan."—Dibdin's Library Companion, p. 433.

"Notes and Queries is become now an established institution, being possessed of that great element of immortality, an individual character and purpose. When a man, or a book, or a periodical, has no strictly individual course, but is like fifty or a hundred, or a thousand other new books or periodicals, he or it may live and prosper doubtless, but the time will also come when he or it must die. There may be three score and ten years for a man, three score and ten months for a journal, three score and ten weeks for a book; but the time still comes soon when each must go hence and be seen no more. Force of individual character is the sal sapient- tum, the turner of base metal into gold, the preserving salt that is alone able to save from decay whatever perishable thing it touches. This Notes and Queries has: and because it has this, we may boldly predict that it shall be savoury in the mouths of generations yet to come. Literary men, centuries after we are gone, will be taking in their Notes and Queries; and the books that shall be hereafter, will be made the richer for the odd and interesting and important Notes they furnish to the authors who contribute Queries for the sake of getting them."

- This work is, without comparison, the most useful of all the Fund publications. It stands in the same relation to Oriental Literature as Watts' Bibliotheca and Græcæ's Treasor do to that of the Western World. The arrangement is alphabetic, according to the names of the works, (an INDEX OF AUTHORS being added at the end), and comprises descriptions of above 15,000 books in Arabic, Persian, and Turkish; with statements of the date when the writers flourished, and many other useful particulars.
- Mustafâ ben Abdallah Kâtib Tchelebi, called Hadjî Khalifeh, was a learned Turk, who, early in the seventeenth century, held a high official position under Amurath IV. At a later period, he collected a large library, and wrote several works, chiefly historical; but the greatest monument of his immense industry and erudition remains in the Bibliographical Lexicon, (Kashf es-Zamân). The Bibliothèque of D'Herbelot consists principally of an abstract from defective texts of the work of Hadjî Khalifeh; while Freytag's edition is based upon the most perfect and important copies in existence.

When the latter volumes, titles, indexes,
etc. were put forth, but a very limited number were printed on Large Paper, and the early vols. being all of that description, copies too frequently present an unsightly combination. The vols. here are all, as they should be, uniform in size, and the copy possesses the leaf in the "Exon Domesday," which, when the work was about to be printed, was discovered to have been abstracted; not very long ago, after many years of absence, this leaf was accidentally found, miles away, among some family papers, and then printed. In every way this is a very desirable copy of "the most valuable piece of antiquity possessed by any nation."

Almost every page of Dugdale's Baronage may be referred to as evidence of the importance of this census to the Genealogist.

"The Domesday Book of William the Conqueror is unquestionably the most valuable record of property possessed by any nation in Europe, whether we consider the extent, the variety or the importance of the information it contains. In this inestimable survey, the various manors are arranged under the names of the tenants in Capite, who were those who held of the King as the supreme lord of all the lands in England; thus exhibiting in the clearest manner the original distribution of property, at the time of the Conquest, throughout the kingdom; and presenting us with a view, which is nearly complete, of all the persons who, in the first twenty years after the Conquest, formed the Barons of England—the progenitors of those who, in subsequent times, were the active agents in wresting from King John the great Charter of our Liberties."

I—XIV, complete, hf. russia, and Vol. XV. in 9 parts, ed. all as yet published, 4to. beautiful COLOURED plates, portrait of Lamarck and 2 photographs of Lovell Reeve, Lovell Reeve's own copy, £95. 1843-66
- 1387 — the same, Vols. I—XIV, 4to. Hugh Cuming's copy, half calf; contents lettered, £75. 1843-64

This work was introduced at the commencement of the year 1842, with a view of forming a complete illustrated encyclopædia of Shells; the undertaking being mainly stimulated by the vast amount of new and imperfectly known materials collected by Hugh Cuming, Esq., during two prolonged voyages of fourteen years duration, in both the old and new hemispheres. The zeal and excellent discrimination with which the researches of this eminent naturalist were prosecuted, especially in noting localities and circumstances of habitation, have added a value to his collection far beyond that of any hitherto formed; and the friendly interchange of specimens effected since his return to England, with various Museums and Collectors both in Europe and America, has furnished his cabinet with nearly all the desiderata, which either did not occur to him in his travels, or are inhabitants of those regions he had not the opportunity of visiting. The perfect condition in Mr. Cuming's specimens are preserved, is another feature in the collection which renders it peculiarly serviceable for the purpose of illustration; and the author of the 'Conchologia Iconica' has not failed to embrace this opportunity of presenting each species in its finest state of preservation, and of the natural size, excepting those which on account of their minuteness, require the assistance of the microscope.

Of the species hitherto published so large a proportion are new to science, and the number recorded under the head of each genus exhibits so material an increase upon any former or contemporaneous list, that the author might be imputed to exercise more freedom in the introduction of new species than the nature of his materials permit; he can however state, that every species undergoes the test of a rigid comparison, and none are recorded as new, but such as seem to have a character sufficiently permanent and unapproachable.

"Mr. Roach Smith has brought to his task a thorough and familiar acquaintance with the writings of Roman and Greek authors, which enables him to interpret at a glance the significance of isolated and otherwise inscrutable facts and allusions. But besides these acquirements he possesses an enthusiastic spirit which has neither been daunted by opposition, nor chilled by indifference; and to this we owe the results recorded in his splendid volumes. How many thanks are due from all historical and antiquarian enquirers to Mr. Roach Smith for his public-spirited labours! Fortunately, he needs no other memorial than this his greatest work, to attest his labours and services."

"The works of Arthur Young should have a prominent part in every economical library."

Macculloch.

"The works of Arthur Young did incomparably more than those of any other individual to introduce a taste for agriculture, and to diffuse a knowledge of the art in this and other countries. They are written in an animated, forcible, pure English style; and are at once highly interesting and instructive. It has been truly said, that if great zeal, indefatigable exertion, and an unsparing expense in making experiments, can give any one a claim to the gratitude of agriculturists, Arthur Young deserves it more than most men."

"The Arabian Nights have lost none of their charms for me. All the learned and wise-men of England cried out against this wonderful work, upon its first appearance ; Gray among the rest. Yet I doubt whether any man, except Shakespeare, has afforded so much delight, if we open our hearts to receive it. The author of the Arabian Nights was the greatest benefactor the East ever had, not excepting Mahomet. How many hours of pure happiness has he bestowed on six-and twenty millions of hearers. All the springs of the Desert have less refreshed the Arabs than those delightful tales, and they cast their gems and genii over our benighted and foggy regions."—Leigh Hunt.

"This book is the most complete manual of Eastern manners ever published, and the valuable notes throw more light on the mystery of Arab life than perhaps all other works in our language."—Athenæum.

- Concerning Hudibras there is but one sentiment—it is universally allowed to be the first and last poem of its kind. The learning, wit and humour certainly stand unrivalled. Various have been the attempts to describe the two last; the greatest English writers have tried in vain —Cowley, Barrow, Dryden, Locke, Addison, Pope and Congreve, all failed in their attempts; perhaps they are more to be felt than explained, and to be understood rather from example than precept; if any one wishes to know what wit and humour are, let him read Hudibras with attention, he will there see them displayed in their brightest colours.

"Poor Tom Durfey! who would have expected to have seen his witty works enshrined in the martyrology of books, a punishment no owing to his attachment to the Tory rest. It appears that the members of the 'ned Kis Cat Club requested their founder to bake some mutton pies with Durfey's Works under them. On one occasion the Club complained that the pies were never baked enough, when Christopher Kat, the pastrycook, swore that Durfey's Works were so cold that the dough could not bake for them."—J. Y.

- A book of singular importance, and the only one published upon the Social Annals of the English people. No work, professing to be a history of England, can pretend to any real value, unless based upon the statistics which shew forth the inner life of the masses, and their gradual progress through the phases of civilization. These statistics are collected here; and it may be remarked as a rather curious fact that the late Mr. Buckle, for whose work these details of domestic history would have been amongst its most valuable ingredients, seems to have been wholly ignorant of Eden's State of the Poor.

Printed by T. Purfoot, 1611

The woodcuts in the above copy are very good specimens of the style of the period in which this book was written. The 'Booke of Falconrie' is perfect, but the 'Noble Art of Venerie' wants about 20 pages altogether. It is, notwithstanding, a desirable copy on account of the brilliancy of the impressions, and will be just as valuable as a perfect one to the student of Falconry.

1942 FENN'S ORIGINAL LETTERS, written during the Reigns of Henry VI, Edward IV, and V, Richard III, and Henry VII, by various persons of Rank, or consequence, (members of the PASTON FAMILY,) containing many curious Anecdotes relative to that turbulent, but hitherto dark period of our history, 5 vols. 4to. SECOND AND BEST EDITION, with portraits shewing the costumes, coloured, and numerous facsimiles of autographs and seals, fine copy, calif gilt, £10. 10s 1787-1823

"The Paston letters are an important testimony to the progressive condition of society, and come in as a precious link in the chain of the moral history of England, which they alone in this period supply. They stand indeed singly in Europe; for though it is highly probable that in the archives of Italian Families, if not in France or Germany, a series of merely private letters equally ancient may be concealed, I do not recollect any that have been published. They were all written in the reigns of Henry VI, and Edward IV, except a few as late as Henry VII, by different members of a wealthy and respectable, but not noble family: and are, therefore, pictures of the life of the English gentry in that age."—Itallum.

of the old times, and were written during the troublesome times of the wars between the houses of York and Lancaster, in the Reigns of Henry VI, Edward IV, Edward V, Richard III, and Henry VII. They treat of the political history and of the military transactions of the day, and they also descant on the amours, the marriages, &c. of private life; relieved again by observations on domestic occurrences, and the details of rural occupations. "They altogether form a delightful picture of the times, of the manners and customs of the middle ages, and may be read with pleasure and advantage, even by those who profess abhorrence of whatever is ancient."

* This interesting publication consists of the original correspondence of the family of Paston, of Norfolk; they are valuable reliques

"Of all the works of the imagination to which English genius has given origin, the writings of Henry Fielding are perhaps most decidedly and exclusively her own. The persons of his story live in England, travel in England, quarrel and fight in England; and scarce an incident occurs, without it being marked by something which could not well have happened in any other country. In strong and national humour, and forcible yet natural exhibition of character, the Father of the English Novel remains unapproached, even by his successful followers."—Sir Walter Scott.

"What a master of composition Fielding was! upon my word I think the Cædipus Tyrannus, the Alchemist and Tom Jones, the three most perfect plots ever planned, and how charming, how wholesome Fielding always is! to take him up after Richardson is like emerging from a sick room heated by stoves, into an open lawn on a breezy day in May."—*S. - Gilbart's name has often been quoted in both Houses of Parliament, on questions of Banking and Finance, as that of a Practical man, whose opinions on all questions connected with his trade (that of a banker) deserve the utmost attention. Whenever an unsuccessful company is wound up, it is invariably found that Gilbart's maxims have been sinned against. Gilbart's works have been long out of print, and a new edition has been most urgently called for by demand from home and abroad.

BATMAN upon Bartholome his Booke de Proprietatibus Rerum, newly corrected, enlarged and amended; with such additions as are requisite unto every severall Booke profitable for all Estates, as well for the benefite of the Minde as the Bodie (by Stephan Batman), sm. folio, black letter, title within engraved borders with arms on the reverse, some leaves stained, hf. bound, VERY RARE, £6. 6s Thomas East, 1582

This most curious work is a general history of nature, composed in Latin by Bartholomew Glanville, an English Franciscan, of the family of the Earls of Suffolk. He flourished about the year 1360, and was the Pliny of his time. The English version was made by John Trevisa, a Cornish man, at the request of Thomas Lord Berkeley, in the year 1398. It is very frequently quoted in Douce's Illustrations of Shakspeare, where, upon a passage in the Tempest, it is observed, "The following passage in Batman upon Bartholome will not only throw considerable light on these lines, but furnish at the same time ground for a conjecture that Shakspeare was indebted to it, with a slight alteration, for the names of Caliban's mother Sycorax the witch." Shakspeare was without doubt extremely well acquainted with this work.

The treatise on Music is particularly curious and valuable for the history of the Art in the Middle Ages.

Priced by me in a recent catalogue, £12. 12s; a copy fetched at Christie's, in 1860, £9. 15s.

On page vii of the preface this passage occurs: "I have only printed two hundred copies of this work." Of these two hundred, only a few got at first into circulation. The tendency of the work is to overturn all the established systems of religion, to destroy received notions upon subjects generally considered sacred, and to substitute a simple unsacerdotal worship. Names hitherto looked upon with veneration by the world are stripped of their honours, and others are lifted from opprobrium to a position of reverence. The powerful though rather dogmatic logic, and the profound learning of the author, give the work a singular importance; and in a thinking age, when many things, formerly considered truths, are passing away into the shadows of tradition, the student of comparative mythology and the origin of religions and languages, will look upon Higgins' Anacalypsis as his guide and luminary through the darkness of a dawning science.

The O'Clerys, in common with their patrons, lost their castle and estates at the time of the Plantation of Ulster; and their last and greatest professional work was executed in the temporary shelter of the monastery of Donegal, under the auspices of Fergal O'Gara, styled Lord of Coolavin, and at that time one of the members of the Irish Parliament for the county of Sligo, who became their protector on their final dispossession in A.D. 1632. The family at this time consisted of Teige of the mountain, otherwise known as Brother Michael, Cucograne or Peregrine, and Conary. Supported by the liberality of this truly noble patron of his country's literature, and assisted by several other professional historians, of whom Cucograne or Peregrine O'Duigenan is reckoned as the "fourth master," the O'Clerys commenced the compilations of these Annals on the 22nd of January, 1632, and completed their task on the 18th of August, 1636. The authorities collated and abstracted into this compilation in the Testimonium prefixed to the Annals, are given under the hands of the guardian and brotherhood of the monastery.

- "His writings everywhere breathe pure taste in morals as well as in literature; and it may be said with truth, that not a single sentiment has escaped him which does not indicate the real elegance and dignity which pervaded the most secret recesses of his mind. No author is better calculated to inspire those generous sentiments of liberty, without which the most just principles are useless and lifeless."

Written in an easy and unassuming style, this interesting volume contains a great amount of erudition and research. It is a book which will please not merely the reader of pleasant stories, told in Irish-English, but the Anthropologist and the student of Comparative Mythology will also find in it much food for their inquiries into the origin and early connection of races. These traditions and legends, preserved in the mouths of the people from times of remote antiquity, are fruitful with indications that reveal the pre-historic condition of the human family, and the original affinities of its branches.

J. M. Gresley's library, £150.* 1795-1815

 * To the Antiquary or any future Historian of the County this will be found a most desirable acquisition. These notes were intended by Mr. Gresley for publication. They display an incalculable amount of labour, industry, and erudition, on the part of the writer, who was truly an Antiquary, if there was ever one. The Pedigrees appear to be the most important part of the additions: he collected them at an infinite cost of time and perseverance, taking care to verify and establish every statement. In addition to this, there are copies of old Charters, beginning with the twelfth and thirteenth centuries; and a host of other documents equally valuable and interesting, including letters to and from the most celebrated antiquaries of the last half century or more, an original petition to Oliver Lord Protector, reminiscences of old inhabitants, etc. Mr. Gresley had the advantage of basing his work upon the MS. labours of Mr. Wolferston and others, whose works he has incorporated with his own; and besides, the family archives of the county were freely opened to him, so that he has achieved in the compilation of this heap of neat MS., a task which perhaps no one else could ever have accomplished.

Newcastle-upon-Tyne, 1841-46

Fetched, 1855, Sotheby's, £5. 10s.

"This chronology of local occurrences, from the earliest times when a date is ascertainable, possesses an especial interest for the residents of the Northern Counties; but, inasmuch as it records Historical events, as well as trivial incidents, and includes Biographical notices of men whose fame extended beyond their birth-places, it is not without a value to the general reader. The work is divided into two portions, the larger consisting of the chronicle, and the lesser of the traditions and ballads of the country. Some of these are very characteristic and curious; they invest with poetic associations almost every ruin or plot of ground; and the earlier legends of moss-troopers and border-strifes afford an insight into the customs and state of society in remote periods. The handsome pages are illustrated with woodcuts of old buildings and other antiquities."—Spectator.

- * The illustration of this poem was the last task for the public undertaken by the author:—a task, it may be added, beyond the compass of any one less easy in fortune, since the production of that volume is said to have cost £10,000, and the days had not then set in when cheap literature on the one hand had been balanced by a luxury in typography and engraving undreamed of by our fathers. There can be no question that the taste, no less than the cost, brought to bear on this volume, in which some of the most exquisite designs of Turner alternate with those of Stothard, mark a period in the history of English-book illustration. To this day Rogers's 'Italy' remains without a peer."

Printed, 1834, Thorpe, £12. 12s; 1840, Payne and Foss, £14. 14s.

Privately printed at the expense of an Association of noblemen and gentlemen. This curious and interesting memorial of early honour contains the evidences of upwards of three hundred earls, barons, knights and esquires; of each an interesting biographical notice is given; and their depositions abound in interesting information, illustrative of the history, manners and customs, of this country in the fourteenth century. Only a small edition was printed, and none of the copies were intended for sale. This celebrated dispute was carried on in the Court of Chivalry, during a period of five years, with great spirit by both parties, who enlisted as witnesses some of the most distinguished knights and warriors who flourished in that age of chivalry. One of the witnesses was "Geoffrey Chaucere, Esquier," who mentions his captivity in France. See an interesting account of it in Mr. Martin's Catalogue of privately printed books.

- 2518 SHERIDAN'S Dramatic Works, by Moore, 2 vols. 8vo. cloth, scarce, £1. 5s 1821

"In these plays, the gentlemanlike ease of Farquhar is united with the wit of Congreve. Indeed, the wit of Sheridan, though equally brilliant as that of his celebrated predecessor, flows so easily, and is so happily elicited by the line of the dialogue, that, in admiring its sparkles, we never once observe the stroke of the flint which produces them. Wit and pleasantry seem to be the natural atmosphere of this extraordinary man, whose history was at once so brilliant and so melancholy."

 "The style of Sterne, though fancifully ornamented, is vigorous and masculine, and full of that animation and force which can only be derived by an intimate acquaintance with the early English prose-writers. In the power of approaching and touching the finer feelings of the heart, he has never been excelled, if indeed he has ever been equalled; and may at once be recorded as one of the most affected and one of the most simple of writers:—as one of the grandest plagiarists, and one of the most original geniuses, that England has ever produced."

"It is the fashion to underrate Horace Walpole; firstly, because he was a nobleman; and secondly, because he was a gentleman; but to say nothing of the composition of his incomparable letters, and of the Castle of Otranto, he is the "Ultimus Romanorum," the author of the Mysterious Mother, a tragedy of the highest order, and not a puling love play. He is the father of the first romance, and of the last tragedy in our language, and surely worthy of a higher place than any living writer, be he who he may."—Byron.

A Life of the Marquis of Worcester, one of the most prominent historical characters among the adherents of Charles I., and at the same time the greatest Engineer of his age, has long been wanted;—it is now presented to the public, uniform with Smiles' Lives of the Engineers, to which it will form a companion.

The Marquis of Worcester's Century of Inventions has been for 200 years an English household book; but, in spite of the many editions, it has always been difficult to obtain a copy. In the present volume the "Century of Inventions" is reprinted in facsimile from the first edition, with a running commentary.

The author of this work was a Jesuit, of the name of Lacunza, he was born in Santiago in Chili in the year 1731, and died in 1801. The name "Ben-Ezra," he adopted as a "nom de plume," assuming to be a converted Jew. His opinion of the Millenium was so strangely opposed to the Catholic faith, that he never could receive permission to have his work printed; a few MS. copies got into surreptitious circulation on the two continents, and the most eminent men both of the clergy and laity had a high opinion of its singularly acute logic and fearless conclusions. Few religious works have so much excited the curiosity and admiration of the learned classes, but never has a writer been injured so much as Lacunza, by the mutilation and corruption of his text. Notwithstanding the interdict, laid upon it by the authorities in America as well as in Spain, and even against the author's own desire, copies were printed by stealth, all incorrect and imperfect. The first of the above editions, without date and impression, is supposed to have been printed in Barcelona. Its rarity is so excessive that it never came to the hands or knowledge of the editors who published the London edition of 1826, which is however the most complete. We know further of a London edition of 1816, one dated Mexico, 1825, and a Paris edition of the same year, all more or less incomplete.

"Calderon, a celebrated Spanish writer of the 17th century, one of the most copious and esteemed dramatists in Spain, equal to Lope de Vega."

"His boundless and inexhaustible fertility of invention, his quick power of seizing and prosecuting everything with dramatic effect, the unfailing animal spirits of his dramas, if we may venture on the expression, the general loftiness and parity of his sentiments, the rich faculty of his verse, the abundance of his language, and the clearness and precision with which he embodies himself in words and figures, entitle him to a high rank as to the imagination and creative faculty of a poet."

Of this valuable collection of 576 Old Romances, only 500 copies were printed, of which few remain for sale. The introduction comprises an Essay on the Castilian Poetry

Madrid, Sanchez, (London, Pickering, 1843)

Of the Collection intitled "Cancionero de Obras de Burlas provocantes a Risa," Valencia, 1519, 4to. there is only one copy known, which is in the British Museum. It begins with one very long poem, and ends with another; the last being a brutal parody of the "Trescientas" of Juan de Mena. The shorter poems are by well-known names, such as Jorge Manrique and Diego San Pedro, and are not always liable to objection on the score of decency; but the general tone of the work, which is attributed to ecclesiastical hands, is as coarse as possible.

The above edition of it, printed at London in 1841, has a curious and well-written preface, and a short, but learned, Glossary. From page 207 to the end p. 246, are a few poems not found in the original Cancionero de Burlas; one by Garci Sanchez de Badajos, one by Rodrigo de Iteynosa, &c.—Ticknor, 1849, Vol. I. p. 404.

- The notes of Pellicer contain a vast body of erudition and research. The text is remarkable for its correctness and the embellishments are all the work of Spanish artists, and admirably illustrate the spirit of the text. "Pellicer has greatly improved the text, and in his numerous annotations has displayed much erudition in tracing the sources whence the author drew his supplies; in pointing out the passages in the old romances alluded to in Don Quixote; in detailing at large the historical facts which are there mentioned; and in collecting biographical, bibliographical, and critical information concerning the several authors whose writings Cervantes has either directly or indirectly noticed."—Lockhart's Don Quixote.

"One of the greatest masters of eloquence in his native Castilian. The characteristics of his prose compositions, even those which from their nature are the most strictly didactic, are the same everywhere; and the rich language and imagery of the passage cited afford a fair specimen of his style. But besides this, he was a poet of no common genius. Nearly all his best poetical compositions are odes in the old Castilian measures, with a classical purity and vigorous finish before unknown and hardly attained since."—Ticknor, 1849, II. p. 46-47.

- 3196 ——— El Bastarda Mudarra, comedia manuscrita en 1612, reproducida por la Sociedad Foto-Zincografica, 4to. sd. 16s ib. 1864

"Great as Calderon was, he cannot, without a large reserve, be named as the greatest genius of the Spanish stage. In wealth of invention, prodigious fertility, in dramatic fire, he is far surpassed by Lope, who also had the merit of creating the stage on which Calderon rose. The fresh natural grace of Lope's style, and his vivid consciousness in gay or passionate moments, have a living charm beyond the finished ease and rich exuberance of Calderon's manner;—while Lope excelled in some departments,—as in his chivalrous pictures of Old Spain, and in a certain indescribable sweetness, and glow of gracious womanhood in his female characters,—in both of which Calderon is wanting. Both lived long, and wrote to the latest moment—but Lope's very last pieces are as bright as his earliest, and bear no sign of age; whereas Calderon waned after sixty, and grew verbose and artificial as his years declined."—Athenaeum, Nov. 20, 1853.

"No earlier poem in the Spanish language, if we except, perhaps, some of the early ballads, is to be compared with the Coplas of Manrique for depth and truth of feeling. Its versification, too, is excellent; free and flowing, with occasionally an antique air and turn, that are true to the character of the age that produced it, and increase its picturesqueness and effect. But its great charm is to be sought in a beautiful simplicity which, belonging to no age, is the seal of genius in all."—Ticknor, 1849, I. 373.

Among Spanish prose compositions, the style of Mariana is all but unrivalled. The fourth edition, printed in the very year of his death, is much enlarged and in every way improved. "The proudest monument erected to the history of Spain. His willing belief in the old chronicles, tempered, as it necessarily is, by his great learning, gives an air of trueheartedness and good faith to his accounts, and a picturesqueness to his details, which are singularly attractive."—Ticknor, III. 137. A most interesting and valuable collection; the greater part being original and unpublished matter, including important documents on obscure points of Spanish History, the secret politics of the time of Philip II. and Philip III. with free strictures on government; Poems, Literary Curiosities, translations and satires upon the great writers of Spain; Criticisms on public events; news from America; and pieces concerning the intrusion of ecclesiastical authority into the political system. There is a series of 15 documents, which begins with a "Papeles antiguo sobre los Particulares que en la orden de S. S.* These tracts handle in a minute and peculiar manner the Immaculate Conception and other dogmas of the Church.

To write five novels, in prose and verse, under the strict condition of excluding from each of them one of the five vowels of the alphabet, and to accomplish this task in such a manner that the reader does not at first sight perceive the scheme or the fetters with which the author has surrounded his pen, could be only done in a language extraordinarily rich in words and phrases."—Salva.

The origin of this poem is rather curious. The author, who was Ambassador at Venice, prepared a translation of Tasso's Jerusalem Delivered, but, just before publication, altered his purpose, and converted his work into "Sevilla Restaurada," by the changes of names, and substitution of episodes; but the metamorphosis was effected by no small material alteration.

"As Villa-Señor was Accountant-general in New Spain, and by that means had access to proper information, his testimony with respect to the royal revenue merits great credit. This superb work is the most complete ever published in illustration of the Antiquities and Art Treasures of Spain; a country so frequently spoken of, yet so little known. Many panish gentlemen, numbering amongst them the most celebrated names, have bestowed their hour of love, literary and artistic, upon the "Espagne Artistique;" and the land of the Cid, in all its grand and romantic beauty, seems present to the eye that rests upon those beautiful illustrations. In some, the outer life of the people is depicted, and there are others which represent the architectural glories of Spain, and shadow forth the dark and solemn majesty of Cathedral aisles. No Art library is complete without this magnificent work.

"Sterne has generally concealed the source of his curious trains of investigation and uncommon opinions, but in one instance he breaks through his restraint, by mentioning Bouchet's Evening Conferences among the treasures of Mr. Shandy's library. This book is now become so extremely scarce, that for a long period it had escaped all my inquiries and exertions."

Lewis, the edges uncut, from the Rev. Theodore Williams's and the Earl of Clare's collections, £12. 12s* La Haye, 1740

"Brantome is frequently an amusing and instructive writer, but his naïveté often borders on what must be considered a little licentious. He has preserved many important facts, as well as entertaining anecdotes, which must have otherwise perished. It is pleasant to find the unaccountable omission of his name by La Harpe, supplied by a short, but smart notice of him, by Barbier."

Dibdin's Library Companion, p. 538.

The reader will find the notice mentioned by Mr. Dibdin in Barbier's Bibliothèque d'un Homme de Gout, vol. 4, p. 17.

Dr. Dibdin adds in a note, "We owe to Brantome, I believe, the preservation of the affecting song which Mary sung in the vessel, while quitting the shores of France, to return to her kingdom. Yet there may be reasonable doubts of its authenticity. Was the sensitive mind of a woman in her situation in a state to warble ditties?"

- 3700 FROISSART, Histoire et Chronique de, 4 vols. in 1, sm. folio, in the original brown MOROCCO stamped binding, £4. 4s Paris, Jehan Ruelle, 1574
 This volume is stated in a MS. note to have belonged to the family of Rochejacquelein, and has a coat of arms stamped on the back. There are also four mottoes on the sides, "Virtutem fortuna superans," "Virtus parva labore viget." "Cede la Vertu aux Fortunez," "L'Histoire est Messagere de l'Antiquité," and the binding is evidently contemporary with the book.
- 3701 FROISSART, Histoire et Chronique, 4 vols. in 2, numerous fine woodcut initials, executed in a highly artistic style, calf, full gilt back, £2. 12s Paris, Claude Gautier, 1574
 This is a made-up copy. Vols. I and II, are of the edition printed by Jean de Tournes at Lyon in 1559, and for the proper title of Vol. I, Claude Gautier, a Paris bookseller, has substituted the title of Vol. IV. from the 1574 edition, pasting the word "premier" over "quart." He also has printed his name on the title page of Vol. III.; and that of Vol. IV. (for the above reason) is wanting.

The edition was printed in the author's lifetime, and besides other peculiarities, has the first line thus: "Di donne e cavalier gliantiqui amori," which is by some critics preferred to the line as it now stands.

- " Ariosto has been, after Homer, the favourite poet of Europe. His grace and facility, his clear and rapid stream of language, his variety and beauty of invention, his very translations of subjects, so frequently censured by critics, but artfully devised to spare the tediousness that hangs on a protracted story, left him no rival in general popularity. Above sixty editions of the Orlando Furioso were published in the sixteenth century. XVII. XVIII*
Such a collection as this can never again be made. Similar compilations of popular ballads have been made in England and Spain; but for Italy little has been done, and the many changes which that country has been subject to, render extremely interesting these reflections of the minds of the people during periods of violence and transition. They are all very curious, as would be seen by a mere list of the titles. Those in dialects are more precious than ever, now that unity of language seems likely to be accomplished all over the peninsula.

"No poet of his time enjoyed more reputation than the ecclesiastic Giovanni Della Casa. He has established claims to reputation, by the extent of his classical attainments. His style is pure Tuscan, and the sonnet 'Son queste d'Amor' is a delightful expression of love, while its manly tenderness quite elevates the mind above the Platonic heroics of most sonnetteers."—Mills's Theodore Duos.

One of the most splendid productions of the Aldine press, and one of the rarest of them, especially in good condition and perfect. The leaf containing the portrait of Catherine is almost always wanting, and, for the reasons assigned by

Mons. Renouard, it is as frequently in bad preservation. "Ce livre," says he, "très-recherché en Italie, est aussi rare que les précédents, et plus peut-être, parce qu'ayant été beaucoup lu par des religieuses et autres personnes non lettrées, il aura été plus encore détruit par l'usage; aussi les exemplaires qu'on en rencontre sont, pour la plupart, usés et délabrés. L'édition, en belles lettres rondes, est de la plus grande beauté."

4098 GALILEO GALILEI, OPERE, 16 vols. roy. 8vo. LARGE PAPER, ed. uncut, £6. Firenze, 1842-56

Many of the works of Galileo circulated extensively during his lifetime in MS., and were never printed. These have been collected from various parts of Europe, and are printed for the first time in this edition, verifying its claim to the title of prima edizione completa.

"Cette édition comprend tout ce que l'on connaissait déjà d'écrits de Galilée imprimés, plus une quantité de morceaux inédits qui constituent à peu près le tiers de la collection, parmi lesquels la correspondance de Galilée avec les savants de son temps, composée de près de 1600 lettres contenues en six volumes. Il s'y trouve aussi une quantité d'autres pièces qui se rapportent aux œuvres et à la vie de Galilée, ce qui constitue un corps d'ouvrage qui laisse bien en arrière toutes les précédentes éditions des œuvres de ce grand homme."—Brunet.

"Of all the Italian Novelists Cinthio appears to have been the greatest favourite with our old English dramatists. Two of the most popular of Shakspeare's plays were taken from his Novels, Othello and Measure for Measure: also the plots of two other plays by Beaumont and Fletcher, The Laws of Candy and the Custom of the Country—and Dryden's tragedy of Amboyna, and the incidents of many scattered scenes in the works of these dramatists may be traced to the same source."

Geneva, 1641

On the back of the engraved title Thomas Killigrew, in his own hand, has entered his two marriages and the birth of his children. These autograph memoranda are very important, as they correct the mistakes of his biographers, showing that he was born in Lothbury, Feb. 7th, 1611, and not at Hanworth, as stated in Wood's Athenæ, edited by Dr. Bliss. It also gives the name of his second wife, Charlotte de Hesse, hitherto known as "a Dutch Lady."

His death is recorded by his son Charles as occurring in October, 1682, instead of 19 March, 1682, as mentioned in Wood.

The second edition of this the most highly-esteemed Protestant translation. The Apocrypha is placed at the end of the New Testament. Priced, 1845, with MS. notes by Queen Charlotte, mor. gt. £7. 17s 6d; 1858, Asher Berlin, 203 fr.; Large Paper, Thorpe, mor. gt. £7. 7s. See Dibdin's Biblioth. Spencer, V. p. 85.

- 4447 ZAZZERA, Nobiltà dell' Italia, parte seconda, sm. folio, vellum, £3. 8s

Index, and numbered the pp. 1-280 (of which pp. 21-314—the second leaf of Orsini—are wanting.) A note in the same hand appears at foot of title, "Sin ora non è comparso altro che questa parte," which is not correct. The work was apparently issued in single Monographs, with separate leaves and supplements, all unnumbered; of which the author issued his first collection, with a title, in 1615; and what he printed after that year, appeared subsequently to his death, in the above compiled form, with the title of Second Part, 1628.

CARDS.

- 4655 ANCIENT CARDS. A marvellous collection of 48 PLAYING CARDS of the XVth Century; the Outline having been printed from Woodblocks, and the Colours rudely PRINTED by some mechanical process. The printer's device is two "Crossed Hammers:" by this may be traced the Xylographer's name and abode, and to judge from the Acorn being one of the suits, it is Southern Germany. The collection includes 12 COURT CARDS, three of each suit, (Gentleman, Knave, and Clown), evidently the perfect set. Added is a complete set of Drawings of these Cards, and 10 early French Court Cards, both the Cards and Drawings neatly mounted on cartridge paper, and bound in 2 vols. 12mo. old russa, with the book-plate of Mark Cephias Tutet, £24. ca. 1470

From the fly leaf is copied the following note of its former owner:—

The ancient Cards in this volume, with others, (duplicates), and the drawings in the second volume, were purchased by me out of the collection of Dr. Stukeley; the drawings were produced by the Doctor the 9th Nov. 1720, to the Society of Antiquaries, observing that the cards had been given him by Thomas Rawlinson, Esq. being two pieces of the cover of an old book, supposed to be Claudian, printed before 1500, and that there was a leaf or two of an old edition of Erasmus's Adages pasted between the layers of the cards, which, being laid stratum super stratum, composed two paste boards, and made the cover of the book.

The Doctor took the pains to separate the cards, out of which I have chosen a complete pack, and, the better to preserve so singular a curiosity, have had it bound, together with the above mentioned drawings and some modern French cards.

It is observable, in these ancient Cards, that there are no Aces nor Queens, but instead of the latter, are Knights. On the antiquity of playing cards, see: "Recherches historiques sur les Cartes à jouer," by Buller, who thinks they were not invented before the latter end of the XIV. century; see also "Idée générale d'une Collection complète d'Estampes."

Probably of old Dutch workmanship; there are 9 cards in each hand or set, viz. Heer, Vrouw, and Boer, as Courtcards; Ace, and then the six to the twelve. There is a great deal of Ornamentation in the shape of Flowers, etc. worked in silk upon each card; and the courtcards are very curious and elaborate.

This book, like the other works of the author, is of the greatest rarity. Murner was the first inventor of this species of publication, but very many were afterwards published. They were received with much delight by the literary world at the time, and the council which acquitted him of witchcraft, expressed their opinion that he was rather a divinity than a magician, and worthy of all honour.

The woodcuts in this edition are copied from the first, and are of the same marvellous description. It is quite as rare as the first edition, and is called by Vogt "liber eximie raritatis, Morhofio nunquam visus." This copy cost £3. 18s.

Berlin, 1785-97

Still the best work on Fishes as far as the plates are concerned. Perfect copies are rare in this country, owing to an accident which destroyed the greater portion of the last six volumes immediately after their publication. "One only regrets that a work so essential to every ichthyologist should be so expensive."
Swainson.

A great deal of confusion is experienced by confounding Blume's series of Botanical works one with another. It may be useful to state that the 'Orchidées de l'Archipel Indien' is the same as the Nova Series of the 'Flora Java,' but was published as a separate work with another title, in order to serve as a monograph of the 'Orchids' found in that part of the world.

"It is indeed a very observable fact, that while Richelieu, with such extraordinary boldness, was secularizing the whole system of French politics, and by his disregard of ancient interests, was setting at naught the most ancient traditions, a course precisely similar was being pursued, in a still higher department, by a man greater than he; by one, who, if I may express my own opinion, is the most profound among the many eminent thinkers France has produced. I speak of René Descartes, of whom the least that can be said is, that he effected a revolution more decisive than has ever been brought about by any other single mind."

These two volumes will be found of the utmost practical service to the ornithologist, from the careful way in which the synonyms are collected, and also for the information they contain, extracted from various sources, some of which, such as Dr. B. FISHES, by J. Richardson, 60 plates, £2

MAMMALIA, by J. E. Gray, 49 plates, some coloured, 36s

As Dr. Richardson justly remarks, this was the most pre-eminently scientific expedition that ever sailed from Europe. The above work forms a complete handbook to the Natural History of New Zealand, and the best talent of the land was employed in describing and classifying the collections. The plates are beautifully drawn, and highly finished by artists of well-merited celebrity, and altogether this is one of the most beautifully got up of all the scientific voyages. It is very scarce and difficult to procure.

Hornemann, et Liebmann, Fasciculi 1—43, or Vols. I.—XIV., 2580 coloured plates, 1766-1852—Supplementum, fasc. 1, curâ F. M. Liebmann, 60 coloured plates, 1853—together 44 fasciculi, folio, 2640 FINELY COLOURED PLATES, (pub. at 800 Rixdalers), £60.*
Havniæ, 1766-1853
- The "FLORA DANICA," on fine paper, with COLOURED plates, is of the VERY RAREST OCCURRENCE in England or elsewhere. Copies with plain plates are easily obtained in Copenhagen, at 312 Rixdalers; the early volumes of coloured copies, on Fine Paper, are out of print, and of the new parts only the exact number wanted for the subscribers are executed.
- The "Flora Danica" is the most beautiful work of its kind published; it includes also every kind of FUNGI, omitted in Sowerby's English Botany. It may further be stated that there is scarcely any difference between the Flora of Denmark and that of Great Britain.

Until this, no work existed on the British Mollusca, in accordance with the present state of Natural History science. The assistance which the authors received from the first Conchologists of the day, and the energy which they devoted to make the work as complete as possible, have rendered it one of the ablest treatises on the natural history of the British Isles.

VERY RARE AND CURIOUS. COLLATION: A to S, in eights, including the title, and the preface, "Au benivolent Lecteur." This preface is curious and quaintly-phrased, and has an odd conclusion in rhyme of a droll sonnet-fashion. Gomparsst seems to have been a teacher "de ceste subtile industrie d'arithmetique."

- 5129 GOULD'S BIRDS OF EUROPE, 5 vols. impl. folio, 449 beautifully coloured plates, half morocco, uncut, £98. 1832

- 5130 ——— the same, parts 1-8, impl. folio, 160 coloured plates, cloth bound, £15. 1832

The most complete book of reference to the Ornithology of Europe, and one that should be in every nobleman's and gentleman's library, for besides being beautifully illustrated, it gives in a concise manner a complete description of each bird. Every plate is a picture in itself, and the birds, admirably drawn by the author, Mrs. Gould, and Mrs. Lear, are represented in the most lifelike and characteristic attitudes, and the large size of the work has enabled the artist to depict almost all of the natural size. To the naturalist it is indispensable as a work of reference, while by the collector it will be found most handsome library book, and one which beauty of illustration will never be surpassed.

- 5130* ——— Monograph of the Trogonidæ, or family of Trogons, complete in 3 parts, impl. folio, 36 coloured plates, (pub. £7. 18s) bds. £5. 10s 1835

"The Trogons may dispute the palm of beauty with the Humming-birds. Their plumage in certain parts shines with metallic brilliancy, and exhibits all the colours of the rainbow." —Griffith's edition of Cuvier. Mr. Gould has illustrated this work in the most beautiful manner, giving examples of the male and female of each species of the natural size, each being exhibited in the full display of its gorgeous dress.

- 5131 GOULD'S ICONES AVIUM, or Figures and descriptions of new and interesting species of Birds, forming a SUPPLEMENT to his previous works, 2 parts, impl. folio, 18 COLOURED plates, bds. rare, £3. 10s 1837

Two parts only appeared, the first containing the commencement of a monograph of the Caprimulgidæ, or Goatsuckers, of which 8 species are here delineated. They embrace the rarest species of this remarkable family, and the peculiar texture of their plumage was never in any other work so truthfully drawn. Part 2 contains some rare birds, not elsewhere described.

- 5132 GOULD'S Monograph of the RAMPHASTIDÆ, or Family of TOUCANS, impl. folio, original edition, 34 large and beautifully coloured plates, (pub. £7.) hf. morocco, gilt edges, 1834—SUPPLEMENT to the first edition of the Ramphastidæ, 2 parts, impl. folio, beautifully coloured plates, (pub. £5. 5s) bds. the 2 sold together for £7. 10s 1834

Gurney's copy fetched £12.

The Toucans form a most curious and interesting group of birds, and Mr. Gould has illustrated the different Species in his usual splendid manner. When we mention that the plates were executed by his late wife, we need add nothing to recommend them to the public.

- 5133 GOULD'S Monograph of the ODONTOPHORINÆ, or PARTRIDGES OF AMERICA, complete in 3 parts, impl. folio, 32 brilliantly coloured plates, (pub. at £8. 8s) bds. £6. 18s 1844-50

Gurney's copy fetched £8. 18s.

At the present time, when more attention is being given to the ornithology of the new world, Mr. Gould's work is especially useful.

- 5134 GOULD'S Monograph of the MACROPODIDÆ, or family of KANGAROOS, Parts I and II, impl. folio, 80 FINELY COLOURED PLATES by RICHTER, (pub. at £6. 6s) bds. £4. 10s 1841-2

This interesting monograph is not yet finished. The early numbers are very rare.

- 5135 GOULD'S MAMMALS OF AUSTRALIA, 13 parts, forming 3 vols. impl. folio, 180 BEAUTIFULLY COLOURED plates (pub. at £40. 19s) £28. 1845-63
 5136 GOULD'S BIRDS OF AUSTRALIA, complete in 17 vols. atlas folio, with 600 plates, most CAREFULLY COLOURED (pub. in 86 parts at three guineas, making £113. 8s) in cases, now entirely out of print, £90. 1848

Gurney's copy fetched £92.

- 5137 — the Supplement, 3 parts atlas folio, coloured plates, (pub. at £9. 9s) bd. £8. 8s 1851

We must still consider the "Birds of Australia" to be, on the whole, the most remarkable of the magnificent series of works for which the name of John Gould must ever remain famous in the annals of our science. The special journey to the Antipodes, undertaken for the collection of materials, the number and importance of new forms and new facts thus brought to light, and the complete novelty of the whole subject rendered the "Birds of Australia" one of the most extraordinary works ever produced by the unassisted efforts of a private individual."

Ibis, 1862

- 5138 GOULD'S BIRDS OF ASIA, Parts 1—18, impl. folio, all yet published, with 316 large and beautifully coloured plates, (pub. at £56. 14s) bds. £40. 1850-66

Gurney's copy fetched £46.

The later works of Gould have been distinguished for the exquisite finish of the illustrations, but none is so remarkable in this respect as 'The Birds of Asia'. Drawn with all the fidelity which characterises his earliest productions, the birds represented in this work may be seen in all the romantic beauty of their native haunts, and many of the bright-hued flowers of the East will be found figured in these magnificent illustrations.

- 5139 GOULD'S Monograph of the TROCHILIDÆ, or HUMMING BIRDS, complete in 25 parts, forming 5 vols. impl. folio, with above 350 most beautifully coloured plates, comprising above 1000 Representations of these charming Birds, (pub. at £78. 15s) bds. £50. 1850-61

- 5142 — Handbook to the BIRDS of AUSTRALIA, by John GOULD, F.R.S., &c. 2 vols. royal 8vo. above 400 pages, cloth, new, £2. 10s 1865

"Nearly twenty years have elapsed since my folio work on the Birds of Australia was completed. During that period many new species have been discovered, and much additional information acquired respecting those comprised therein; it therefore appeared to me that a careful résumé of the entire subject" [in an octavo form] "would be acceptable to the possessors of the former edition, as well as to the many persons in Australia who are now turning their attention to the ornithology of the country in which they are resident."

- 5143 GRAVESANDE'S Mathematical Elements, an introduction to Sir Isaac Newton's Philosophy, translated into English by DESAGULIERS, sixth and best edition, 2 vols. 4to. 127 plates, calf neat, 10s 1747

- 5146 — another copy, not quite perfect, above 190 coloured plates, £10. 10s 1830-34

- 5147 GRAY (G. R.) The GENERA of BIRDS, comprising their generic characters, a notice of the Habits of each Genus, and an extensive List of Species referred to their several Genera, 3 vols. folio, with Appendix and Index, illustrated by about 850 superb plates, THE BIRDS FULLY COLOURED, the details plain, by D. W. MITCHELL, (pub. at £31. 10s) hf. bd. mor. uncut, £27. 1844-49

The scientific merit of Gray's text, and the artistic beauty of Mitchell's plates, render the above a most desirable work for any library. Very few copies ever turn up under the present price of 30 guineas; it is one of the most Scientific works on Ornithology published in Great Britain, equally complete and accurate with the costly works of Gould.

- 5148 GRAY'S FIGURES OF MOLLUSCOUS ANIMALS, selected from various authors; etched for the use of students, by Maria E. Gray, 5 vols. 8vo. portrait and 381 most delicately executed plates (pub. at £3.) cloth, 32s 1859

"Now entirely out of print; the tracings from which these Etchings of Molluscos Animals have been taken were originally made by Mrs. Gray, for my use, with the view of their being added to my collection of figures of Shells, and to aid me in their arrangement. I hope that others may find such a collection of figures—many of them copied from expensive works, and brought together from sources not easily accessible to Conchologists—as useful as they have been to myself."—J. E. GRAY, British Museum.

The author, speaking in the preface of Dr. Greville's illustrations, says:—"All who are practically acquainted with the Diatomaceæ will admit, that if any figures exist in this department which are equal to those given, at least none can be pointed out which surpass them, whether in beauty or accuracy of illustration. The value of such figures to the microscopist is so obvious, that I need not enlarge on it."

CONTENTS:—Mammalia, 13 vols.; Ornithology, 14 vols.; Entomology, 7 vols.; Ichthyology, 6 vols.

By far the best and completest history and illustration of animated nature that has ever appeared. It is in every sense of the word a NATURALIST'S LIBRARY, embracing the result of the labours of all the great natural historians brought down to the latest period.

"We could hardly have thought that any new periodical would have obtained our approbation so entirely as the 'Naturalist's Library'; but the price is so low, the coloured plates so elegant, and their descriptions so scientific and correct, that we cannot withhold our warmest praise. It is a perfect bijou, and as valuable as pretty."—Literary Gazette.

"This book is, perhaps, the most beautiful, and the cheapest series ever offered to the public."—Athenaeum.

logical observations. To those surgeons who are at a distance from the dissecting-room, they must prove invaluable; and the exceedingly cheap rate at which they are published, entitles the proprietors to the sincere thanks of the profession."—Lancet.

Beckman, in his history of Inventions, mentions the illustrations of this book as being accurate, and the birds are drawn in very natural positions, the plumage being remarkably well delineated. Altogether the illustrations of this little volume must be considered, for the period at which they were executed, very fine specimens of the draughtsman's and engraver's art. The birds represented are chiefly song-birds, or game, and full and interesting descriptions (with woodcuts) are given of the various modes of trapping them. The book is full of interest to the Naturalist, Bird-fancier, and lover of falconry and field sports.

ORNITHOLOGICAL DRAWINGS:

- 5440 GOMBAUD. LES OISEAUX DE LE GUYANNE, peints par OGIER DE GOMBAUD, 2 vols. royal folio, 168 ORIGINAL COLOURED DRAWINGS, containing representations of 429 different species of Birds, AN UNIQUE AND VERY VALUABLE UNPUBLISHED WORK on the Natural History of GUYANA, neatly bound in hf. green morocco gilt, the Gem of Mr. GURNEY's library, £84.
Cayenne, 1803-8

This extraordinary work is the production of a French gentleman named Ogier de Gombaud, who had been exiled to Guyana for some political reason, at the beginning of the present century. While there he determined to write the history of the birds of that country, and the above are his original drawings, with the descriptions. Not the least curious feature in the book is the dedication to the Eternal, in which he implores the blessing of Providence on the work, and thanks him in that he has given him "le courage, les talens, pour copier ses inimitables ouvrages, les moyens de le faire, la santé pour les finir dans un horrible pays où l'on lutte sans cesse entre la vie et la mort." The birds are painted in a peculiar manner, white being apparently used as the ground-colour, while the other colours are beautifully worked in, each feather being distinctly delineated. This method gives the drawings the appearance of oil-paintings, and their fine effect can only have been the result of the most tedious labour and wonderful perseverance. The different species are characteristically figured, the Vultures, Eagles, Falcons and other Raptores being represented capturing or devouring their prey. The Cypselidæ (Swifts) are represented with their peculiar nests, the Caprimulgidæ (Goatsuckers) hunting moths; and the appearance of every picture is further enhanced by the tasteful arrangement of scenery and foliage. The birds are faithfully coloured, and some of the brighter-plumaged ones, such as the Orioles, Tanagers, Toucans and Trogons are very finely painted. There are three plates of Trochilidæ (Humming birds) containing representations of 37 different species, and introducing the well-known anecdote of the Tarantula. The first volume embraces the various genera as far as the Kingfishers and Todies, while the second, commencing with the Woodpeckers, which comprises some of the best drawings, gives figures of all the other genera down to the Terns and Petrels. Mr. Gurney has made some MS. observations with reference to many of the species, but the majority are not yet scientifically named, and many figures of birds could be identified which are not now found in Guyana, thus rendering the work of peculiar interest with regard to the Natural History of that country at the end of the last century.

- 5443 SANDS (A. F. A.) COLLECTION of 72 ORIGINAL COLOURED DRAWINGS of RARE BIRDS, impl. folio, hf. bound, from Mr. Gurney's library, £16. 16s 1844, &c.

The above collection was designed for Mr. Gurney, and comprises many rarities, particularly in the illustrations of British Birds. Among these may be mentioned portraits of the following, with the localities where they were obtained:—Nutcracker (Rollesby, 1844); Black-winged Stilt (Hickling May); Baillon's Crake, Eared Grebe, Buff-breasted Triaga (all shot at Yarmouth); and other scarce visitants. There are, besides, illustrations of British Hawks, especially Buzzards and Harriers, with some curious varieties, drawn by the artist from specimens in the Norwich Museum. The collection also comprises a series of drawings of Woodpeckers, and from specimens in the same Museum, as well as some from Gould's Birds of Europe and Audubon's Birds of America. Altogether, the volume contains very valuable drawings, which will not be excelled for their characteristic fidelity, while, by the ornithologist they will be prized for the number of British rarities included in them, and which, on the authority of a well-known naturalist like Mr. Gurney, are well authenticated.

"In each class, the chief characters of the teeth of extinct species are described in connection with those of the allied existing forms. For so vast is now the extent, and so rapid the progress of Palæontology, and so important are the links in the chain of Being thus recovered, that no treatise on the Comparative Anatomy of the enduring parts of Animals can fulfil its expected purpose, if it be restricted to the description of such parts in existing species alone."

Two parts are published.

The subjects for illustration will be selected from the many new and remarkable ornithic forms which the exertions of modern collectors have recently brought to light in nearly every part of the world's surface, particularly within the tropics of both hemispheres.

To the description of each species figured, the authors will endeavour to add a complete list of the other known species of the genus, so that the letter-press will consist of a series of separate monographic essays.

The first series of this work will contain ONE HUNDRED PLATES. It will be published in twelve parts, at intervals of about two months. Each part will contain eight coloured plates and two sheets of letter-press. A thirteenth part will contain the four last plates, and the Title and Index to the volume.

The Deutsche Grammatik of Grimm is the work not of an age, nor of a century, but like the great History of the Athenians, εργα αἰς αἰ. It is the Magazine whence all draw their facts and illustrations; a monument of learning, industry, comprehensiveness, and arrangement."

Latham.

"In this astonishing work a whole family of languages has for the first time found an expositor, and as it were an historiographer, placed on the summit of the comparative linguistic analysis of our age. Grimm's Teutonic Grammar comprehends the Scandinavian as well as the German languages in all their ramifications, reduces each of them to its most ancient forms, and follows it down from that point through the whole course of its development: this colossal work forms an epoch in the history of ethnological history."—The Chevalier Bunsen.

In it we have the most lively sketches of a state of society, which our imagination could never have pictured to us without it, and we have contemporary illustrations of manners and customs, which will solve a host of doubtful questions. We never in our life met with a poem so full of beautiful and striking passages as the Romance of Beowulf."

Manuscripts:

- 6535*ANTHOLOGIA GRÆCA, A BEAUTIFULLY WRITTEN MANUSCRIPT, apparently written by Brunck, ruled throughout with red lines, with copious marginal notes, 4to. from Dr. Wellesley's library, calf gilt, gilt edges, £2. 2s (? 1770)

At the end is the following note:—"Ce Manuscrit est la copie d'un in folio en papier de soixante feuillets de la main de Guyet qui a joint au texte, un grand nombre de Restitutions et de Corrections, avec d'autres notes pour l'intelligence du texte. Le Recueil est de plus de 700 Epigrammes, le tout fait environ trois mille vers: il est divisé en cinq parties. La première et la seconde sont composées d'Epigrammes la plus partes licentieuses et qui si on excepte un très petit nombre ne doivent jamais voir le jour." This transcript is believed to be in the handwriting of Brunck, the eminent scholar and critic.

- 6536 JUSTINIANI PANDECTÆ: NOVUM DIGESTUM XII libros complectens, large folio, Manuscript of the XII Century written on VELLUM in double columns, with the Gloss of "ACURSIUS FLORENTINUS, DOCTOR LEGUM," written on the margins early in the fourteenth century, hf. vellum, £12. 1150-1200

A RARE AND VALUABLE CODEX. It is older than the copy preserved in the Durham library, and only one MS. in that of Lyons exceeds, or rivals, it in antiquity. There are three copies at Oxford, and two amongst the Arundel and Burney MSS. in the British Museum; but all are of later date than the present. The text is written in a very elegant character with beadings and initials in blue and red. The character of the Gloss is not so good. The first few leaves have been supplied on newer vellum in a handwriting of the XV-XVI Century.

"Collection tres intéressante et fort recherchée."—Brunet.

Gibbon's emphatic recommendation of this interesting work is corroborated by the voice of all well-read men. "I cannot forget the joy," says he, "with which I first exchanged a bank-note of twenty pounds for the first twenty volumes of the Memoires of the Academy of Inscriptions; nor would it have been easy, by any other expenditure of the same sum, to procure so large a fund of rational amusement."

Priced, 1830, Payne and Foss, £5. 5s; 1832, £3 3s.

Of this rare edition, said to contain 56 leaves of Various Readings, Heyne has observed, "Nec tamen usquam illa (Multiplex Lectio) conspicitur;" though from the publications of Renouard and Dibdin, we should expect them in the 56 separately numbered leaves, at the end of the Odyssey. These, however, consist only of the Biographical Notices. In his new edition, Renouard acknowledges his error, and places the non-existence of these Var. Lect. beyond doubt. In the Bibl. Saraz, this edition is termed "omnium praeantissima et in maximo pretio."

This is an accurate facsimile of the famous Peutingerian or Theodosian Map, one of the most extraordinary remains of antiquity, and perhaps unique of its kind. The original, which is preserved in the public library of Vienna, and esteemed its greatest ornament, is about 24 feet long and 14 inches broad. It is a rude map, on which not only the different cities, rivers, etc. are pointed out by their names, but the objects also are distinguished, and the roads and military routes traced out by lines: it is supposed to have been made at Constantinople, about A.D. 393. Editio Optima of every thing by this Father; and the princeps editio of various of his Homilies, Commentaries, and Orations, and Dialogues. Theophylact flourished A. D. 1070. His Commentaries have been valued not only for their excellent literal explications, but for the important readings of the Greek text, that are found in his quotations from the New Testament Scriptures. Professor Stuart observes that “Theophylact comprises all that is valuable in Chrysostom, while at the same time he has given to the whole more ease, simplicity, and compactness.”

This work, which is all that is known to be extant of Wickliffe in Latin, is perhaps the rarest of all rare books, owing to the diligence with which the disciples of Rome seized and burnt every copy they could meet with.

The volume may be pronounced to be one of the most important of all Wicliff's writings as it contains a summary of his religious sentiments. The errors and corruptions of the Romish Church are detected, exposed and confuted with just discernment, undaunted courage and incomparable skill. From this book many of those conclusions were extracted which caused Wicliff to be condemned in England, Rome and Constance as an heretic.

De Bure has asserted from the conformity of the type of this volume with that of the works printed by Oporin at Brasil, that it came from that Author's press. Vogt informs us, that in his time the book was hardly to be seen, and thinks its least value could not be less than 200 florins; and in the Life of Wickliffe by Lewis, we are told, that the learned Mr. Wharton's copy was thought by him to be the only one in England. A copy which belonged to the Jesuit's College at Claremont, was sold for 240 livres.

Guillaume Merlin printed a book of Horsaries; but is probably the same book as that in the year 1548. As for the last piece in the volume, it apparently wants title and preliminary; stated by Brunet (Vol. II. 1221) to be the FIRST PRINTED AT RHEIMS.

VERY RARE. These Articles and Injunctions were formed, in a great measure, upon the canons of the Council of Cologne, promulgated by Herman de Wida, "the good Archbishop," and which had been drawn up by Martin Bucer. Melancthon and Brentius prepared them by the desire of the elder Wolfgang, of Bavaria, and they were first issued at Deuxponts (Zweibrücken) in 1557, and at Neuberg in 1560; and finally settled and published in 1570 by his son. The portions of Scripture are taken from Luther's version, and the Litany, Creed, and Communion Service are the same as those still in use in the Lutheran Church. This volume, which is elegantly printed in red and black, with musical notes, is a valuable relic of a branch of the Lutheran Church, which no longer exists.

MANUSCRIPT:

- 7227 FAZIO DEGLI UBERTI, DITTA MUNDI, sq. 8vo. an Italian Manuscript of the Fourteenth Century, in a semi-Gothic character, with three Drawings, 176 pp. bound in brown morocco, by Bedford, £21. circa 1360
- A very precious Manuscript, probably contemporaneous with the author of this famous geographical poem. It contains about half the work, beginning with the third chapter of Book I, and leaves off in the seventh of Book IV. Copies of the book are very rare, especially when so old as the present one; and it is well known that the collation of MSS. is more necessary in the case of the Ditta Mundi than in most other works, in order to remedy the gross and innumerable corruptions of the printed text. A comparison of this Codex with the edition of 1501 shows to a great extent the advantage of the former over the latter.

These are illustrated with literary and bibliographical notes, a critical analysis of his life, extracts from rare books and unpublished documents, &c.; which the Editor, as Brazilian Minister in Peru and Chili, had favourable opportunities of examining. The object is to prove that Vespucci was really the first discoverer of America; and this task is worked out with a vast amount of labour and learning.

"The name of Cailliand has for the last ten years stood high among the explainers of Egyptian antiquities, and the zealous devotees of African Discovery. The work now before us presents us with the results of his second visit to Egypt, and of his journeys to the Oasis and adjacent countries during that period, although more than five years have elapsed between his return to France and the entire completion of the present work, (a circumstance that need not excite surprise, considering that the graphic portion contains no less than 150 engravings.) The public has reason to be satisfied that the task of editing his researches and discoveries has in this instance fallen into the author's own hands."—Foreign Quarterly Review.

At a great public meeting, held June 21, 1824, it was declared by the executive power of the Mexican Government, that "Mr. Humboldt's 'Political Essay on New Spain,' contained the most complete and most accurate picture of the natural riches of the country, and that the reading of this great work has not a little contributed to reanimate the active industry of the nation, and to inspire it with confidence in its own powers."

"No name stands higher than that of Humboldt, among the lovers of geographical and physical science. Zealous, active, vigorous; imbued with liberal knowledge, skilful in general physics, and particularly attached to chemistry and its kindred branches, possessing ample means of indulging his taste, he has directed his inquiries into every department of nature and society. The mass of curious information which he has procured in those distant travels, and the superb collection which he was enabled to make relative to different objects of science, far exceed anything that has heretofore been achieved by the exertions of an individual."

After an interval of seventeen years two more volumes of this extraordinary work have been published, in every respect uniform with the preceding, consisting, 1. of Supplementary Notes in English and Spanish ; 2. of Extracts from the works of Torquemada, Acosta and Garcia, illustrating the last portion of the Mexican paintings, contained in the collection of Mendoza, and shewing the correspondence which exists between many of the Mexican and Hebrew laws; 3. "When, some four centuries ago, the enterprise of Spanish navigators opened the vast continent of America to the admiration of Europe, the civilization of the New World was found to be concentrated in two spots, and two only, of that enormous territory. One of these favoured regions was Peru: the other was Mexico. It was in Mexico especially that art, politics, and science had received their greatest development. All the rest of North America, from the shores of Hudson's Bay to the mouths of the Mississippi, was desolate and barbarous, diversified only by swamp, forest, or prairie, and populated by savages without knowledge or laws. Mexico alone redeemed the character of the new continent, and presented to the eyes of the invaders a spectacle so marvellous as to satisfy even the expectations which the great discovery had raised. There the Spaniards found an organized State, an ancient polity, and opulent capital, an exalted dynasty, a formidable priesthood, and a people well skilled in mechanical and decorative art. So great, in fact, was the proficiency of the Mexican workmen, so elaborate the system of government, and so impressive the whole evidence of wealth and grandeur, that for some time the civilization of Mexico was regarded as superior to that of Europe. Although, indeed, the researches of modern inquirers have enabled us to supply some corrective to these ideas, it is really probable that in certain respects the Spaniards found Mexico more advanced than Spain, and we have been recently assured on the authority of a comprehensive history that this civilization was the necessary incident of geographical and natural advantages. Such was the situation and configuration of Mexico that it could hardly fail to make progress, and all that was discovered there in the shape of national wealth or political order represented the extraordinary opportunities which nature had provided."—Times, Dec. 8, 1858.

This curious and amusing book contains nearly 1000 copper-plate engravings of Towns, and woodcuts of Costumes after Titian and others. Copies have sold for as much as £8. The value of the work is not sufficiently recognized, it is a geographical vocabulary alphabetically arranged, and to every article there is appended a list of all the writers who have treated of it, specially or incidentally. But besides the names of places, there are also antiquarian headings in the alphabet, such as "Balnea," "Barones," "Basilica," and numerous others, each of which is accompanied by a list of authors on the subject, with the sizes, dates, and number of editions. Thus this great compilation forms an historical, geographical, and antiquarian Cyclopædia. Two indexes are prefixed, the first containing the names of between twelve and thirteen thousand writers, the second a table of matters.
